Will Suceed Tom C. Clark

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson today named Thurgood Marshall to be the first Negro justice of the Supreme Court.

He will succeed Justice Tom C. Clark on the Court.

The elder Clark ended his active service on the high tribunal after the Court adjourned its term yesterday.

Marshall has been a trailblazer among Negroes throughout his career. His appointment as solicitor general in August, 1965, was unprecedented for a member of his race.

Prior to that, the late President John F. Kennedy had appointed him in 1962 as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia.

The new justice is the great grandson of a slave who was brought to the United States from the Congo. His father was a steward at a fashionable Chesapeake Bay country club.

THURGOOD MARSHALL
First for high court

In 1935, he compelled the admission of a Negro law student at the University of Maryland—a school where he himself had been denied entry.

In 1936, he joined the legal staff of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and two years later became head of its legal operations.

His biggest triumph came in 1954 when he won the historic Supreme Court case declaring school segregation unconstitutional.

Courthouse Bids Lacking; Tax Hike Seen

San Rafael Unable To Make Offer Until Land Sold

By RICHARD LYTTLE

No bid was submitted on the county courthouse block today, and as a result, taxpayers may be faced with an eight-cent increase in the county tax rate next fiscal year.

The board of supervisors, after long delay, two costly consultant reports, and a look at a purchase offer later withdrawn, finally called for bids and set the time for 10 a.m. today. The time came and went, but no bids came in.

RUEFUL JOKE

"I think I'd better call for the chaplain," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said. This got only a sick laugh.

The county was asking a minimum of $900,000 for the block in downtown San Rafael. This would provide a net $726,775 toward the Hall of Justice now under construction at the Civic Center.

Half the sum would be needed in the next fiscal year, and the other half in the year following. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said it will take eight cents on the tax rate to raise $363,388 next fiscal year, and if the property is still unsold, it will take the same levy in the year following.

HEIFETZ OFFER

Last December, developed Harry H. Heifetz offered to purchase the block for $900,000. Supervisors took steps to set a bid take and accept the offer, but delayed at request of the San Rafael City Council, which wanted city acquisition of the block.

The city still wants the block, but cannot raise the purchase price until it sells corporation land on Francisco Boulevard. If the city should accomplish this sale and purchase the courthouse prior to the end of August when supervisors set the tax rate ,the extra levy could be avoided.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the board could also call for bids again with bid date prior to tax setting. Supervisors will discuss this further during a budget session Friday.

Assembly Passes Abortion Bill As Governor Objects

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's legislature today ignored Gov. Ronald Reagan's unexpected last minute objections and sent him the first liberalization of state abortion laws in 95 years.

Less than three hours after the first term Republican governor said he had just today found loopholes in the hotly contested measure, the Assembly voted final passage. The Senate had approved it by a bare majority of 21-17 last week.

The most controversial bill of the 1967 session cleared the lower house 48 to 30. But Reagan said he was not committed to sign it.

Amendments supported by the Republican governor were turned down 42-33—less than two hours after Reagan jarred the legislature by announcing he had some last minute objections and was not committed to sign the bill.

The amendments by Assemblyman Joe A. Gonsalves, D-La Mirada, would have eliminated provisions permitting abortions if the birth of a baby threatens the mental health of the prospective mother.

Gonsalves—supported by Reagan — said that would have cleared the way for performing abortions to prevent the birth of potentially deformed children—if the birth threatened the mothers health.

Reagan told his news conference this was a "loophole" that would have allowed physicians to judge whether potentially deformed children should live or die.

Supporters denied it and said the phrase mental health was sharply limited by the law.

Before the debate, the bill's floor manager, W. Craig Biddle of Riverside, a Republican, said the GOP governor would be breaking "a pledge" if he vetoes the bill.

He said Reagan's aides were in his office this moring making arrangements for the governor to sign the bill. And he told the Assembly in his last conversation with the governor, he said "he would sign the bill in its present form."

Declaring he was unhappy with provisions premitting abortions in case the mental health of the mother is threatened, Reagan said he wants "to make sure we're not, with tongue in

WALTER F. FREITAS
McInnis's nominee

Freitas Named County Planner

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today appointed Walter F. Freitas of 12 Greenside Way, San Rafael, to the county planning commission to fill the term of Claude Stoller, who resigned recently.

The term runs to 1970.

Stoller is an architect and today's debate by supervisors centered on whether to replace him with another architect. Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer thought so and backed Jack Hermann of Greenbrae.

But supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen, William A. Gnoss and John F. McInnis, who nominated Freitas, backed him as a representative of the business community.

Freitas, an attorney, retired some years ago from the San Rafael law firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini, to devote his time to management of the family property. His brother Carlos, former Superior Court Judge, is still associated with the firm.

The new planning commissioner is 55, a graduate of University of Santa Clara, and member of a pioneer Marin family.

Others nominated for the post were architects Gerald Weisbach of Mill Valley and George Quesada of Novato and landscape architect Don B. Austin of San Rafael. The selection was by "secret" ballot, but all but Gnoss announced before the vote whom they were backing and why. Freitas got three votes and Hermann, two, and the board then agreed to make the appointment of Freitas unanimous.

END OF AN ERA

Buffalo Belle Dies; Children's Favorite

The 14-year-old buffalo died peacefully of old age in a lonely covert on the 600-acre ranchlands near Rancho Nicasio she had roamed since 1955.

Her body was found Sunday night by a search party which had combed the hills and valleys since she was reported missing Thursday.

The skyline of West Marin will never quite be the same again. Her passing to a happier pasture was being mourned today by children and grown-ups alike.

Buffalo Belle had lived out a lonely two years since the death of her companion buffalo cow Angelina. Both animals were owned by Nick Kobseff and his business associates at Rancho Nicasio.

Although Belle wandered the hills with other cattle, the absence of Angelina was an almost irreplaceable loss.

Sunday, Belle's body was found in the exact spot where her friend, Angelina, died in 1965.

Kobseff said today: "Children just loved Belle and will miss her very much. Life expectation of a buffalo here is between 15 and 20 years, so she was really approaching old age.

"Many are the times motorists almost left the road when they saw her and Angelina in the nearby fields. Children used to go right up to her, and she enjoyed their company."

They are leaving Belle's body at her last resting place, on the lands behind the little red church, for the time being. "It's really the best thing we can do," said Kobseff.

Racial Unrest Stirs In Four U.S. Cities

COMBINED UPI AND AP

The South braced itself today for more racial unrest while rioting was being checked in two other powder-keg areas—Cincinnati and Los Angeles.

In Tampa, Fla., a thousand police and National Guardsmen battled rioting Negroes through a second night in the city's sprawling slums and then pulled back today to rest up for renewed violence expected when night falls again.

Tampa was not the only trouble spot in the South. Montgomery, Ala., was also a violence area, with the city's police defying a Negro demonstration.

In another incident, bands of roving Negro vandals struck about 30 stores in a predominantly Negro section of Cincinnati last night and early today, hurling bricks, rocks and fire bombs through windows.

Los Angeles also felt the rise of racial tension. Last night about 100 police officers were called to assist firemen when Negroes began pelting firefighters with rocks and bottles at a site of a spectacular fire.

As a hot sun rose over Tampa, smoking ruins of more than a dozen fire-gutted buildings, only a token force remained on duty in the littered streets of the city, torn for the first time by major civil riots.

Chanting: "Get Whitey, get Whitey"—the Negro term for the white man—mobs burned and looted for 11 hours last night, starting their rampage in the bright light of mid-afternoon and continuing until after 2 a.m.

Union Predicts Warehouse Pact Talks To Resume

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A strike by 25,000 warehousemen from the Oregon border to Bakersfield went into its second day today with a resumption of negotiations foreseen by a labor spokesman.

"There is a good possibility that negotiating sessions will be held — possibly some time today," said a spokesman for the Northern California Warehouse Council. The joint negotiating group represents 22 local unions who are affiliated either with the Teamsters Union or the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The spokesman said both sides have been on call since negotiations broke down early yesterday shortly after midnight and picket lines were thrown across warehouse entrances of an estimated 1,000 firms.

Voting Light In Mill Valley Bond Election

Voting was light this morning in Mill Valley School District as voters balloted on a $3.5 million bond measure to finance a "middle school" and improve existing schools.

Fifteen polling places will remain open until 8 p.m. The county elections department reported 10,758 voters registered in the district.

A sampling of polling places shortly before noon showed the following turnout: Old Mill School, 146 voted out of 470 registered; Masonic Hall, 114 of 861; Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, 151 of 950; Tamalpais Valley School, 67 of 600, and Strawberry Point School, 52 of 755.

Outcome of the election is expected to be available by 9:30 p.m. in the school district office, 26 Miller Avenue.

Russia Asks Two U.N. Meetings On Mideast

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Soviet Union today called for a special meeting of the 122-member United Nations General Assembly to take up the Middle East crisis. It also called for an emergency meeting of the Security Council at noon (PDT) today, as the Arabs charged Israeli cruelty to war refugees in Jordan refugee camps and Syrian border villages.

The Russians were unable to pass resolutions in recent emergency Security Council meetings condemning Israeli "aggression" and demanding it withdraw to its pre-war boundaries. It was obvious Russia hoped for such action in the veto-free assembly.

The U.N. truce team said Israel would not let it enter its Jerusalem headquarters where its radios, maps and other equipment are kept.

Authoritative sources in Moscow said the Foreign Ministry had called in ambassadors from several nations to inform them of the call for a special session of the assembly and to hear a Soviet resolution condeming Israel and ordering it to give up captured territory.

In Washington, President Johnson said the United States remains committed to support of the territorial integrity of all Middle East nations. But he said "how this will be effectuated will be determined by events in the days ahead.

"It will depend on a good deal on the nations themselves, on what they have to say, what their views are, what their proposals are," he told a news conference.

With the political crisis flaring up once again Israel issued new figures showing the extent of its victory over the

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Crossing Deaths

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two more railroad crossing deaths were added to Sacramento's statistics yesterday as a car containing two youths collided with a Western Pacific freight train in suburban North Sacramento.

Police identified them as the driver, Bobby Lee Davis, 19, and James W. Gay, 17, both of Sacramento.

Authorities said there are no gates at the crossing, but said that red warning lights were flashing at the time of the accident.

Bay 'Red Tide'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay has been invaded by an apparently harmless version of the "red tides" — huge concentrations of plankton.

It is similar in appearance and fishy odor to the red tides which have killed large schools of fish off Southern California and in the Gulf of Mexico.

However, experts say the plankton — located mainly in the central and southern sections of the bay — is of a different variety and so far no harmful effects have been found.

A State Fish and Game Department spokesman said such plankton "blooms" can result anytime you've got plankton reproducing faster than it dies."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As expected, Democratic Assemblyman John Burton of San Francisco filed yesterday as a candidate for the State Senate seat left vacant by the death if J. Eugene McAteer.

He joins San Francisco Supervisor William Blake who already has filed in the special Democratic primary election for July 18.

Expected to get into the contest for the Democratic nomination are Supervisor John A. Ertola and John A. O'Connell, a firmer assemblyman.

Another former assemblyman, Municipal Judge Milton Marks, is expected to go after the Relican nomination.

Hub Council To Consider Parking Ban

The San Anselmo City Council will consider a ban on parking on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Hub to Sonoma Avenue at 8 p.m. today at city hall.

W. A. Landtbom will appeal the planning commission's denial of a permit for a "Der Wienerschnitzel" take-out food business at 111 Red Hill Aevune. The council will consider abatement of a fire hazard from an old building at 528 Sequoia Drive, owned by Royce Crain. The council may also set a deadline for lots to be cleared of weeds.

Use of the Safeway store parking lot on San Anselmo Avenue for public parking during the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be considered, and the council may set a public hearing on undergrounding of utilities on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Greenfield and Bank streets.

The council may approve an application for about $13,000 in state aid for flood damage.

Reagan Refuses School Fund Plea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan reportedly shouted and pounded a table during a meeting with a delegation of Mexican-Americans who were asking increased school funds.

Gonzalo Molina, field representative for Assemblyman Edward Elliott, D - Los Angeles, who attended the private meeting yesterday, said Reagan indicated he would not support proposals for more money for urban schools.

"The governor said he would oppose all such bills until the Democratic leadership in the legislature stops opposing him on his tax bills," Molina said.

U.S. Jets Hit Red Railroads, Power Plant

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets rained destruction yesterday on the three rail lines leading north from Hanoi, blowing up a string of loaded tank cars on one siding and shooting up two locomotives and about 40 cars.

Air Force jets from Thailand and carrier-based Navy planes flew 100 missions over North Vietnam in generally good weather. For the third time in three days they also attacked one of North Vietnam's power plants, hitting the rebuilt plant at Than Hoa.

ONE JET DOWN

One Air Force Phantom was shot down by ground fire just above the demilitarized zone. The two crewmen were rescued.

It was the 582nd U.S. combat plane lost over North Vietnam.

Although 14 major ground sweeps were under way in South Vietnam, the U.S. Command reported no large-scale fighting. The headquarters said 102 Communist soldiers and one American were killed and 44 Americans were wounded in small action yesterday.

B52s RETURN

Most of this action was in the northern area where continued Communist infiltration makes the zone the war's most active theater. In an effort to counteract this the U.S. Air Force is again making B52 raids against northernmost Quang Tri Province after calling them off for a month because of Soviet-built SAM missiles located just north of the demilitarized zone.

No SAMs have been reported sighted recently in the area, a spokesman said.

The strikes above Hanoi were on the northeast and northwest rail lines, leading to Red China, and the shorter northern line which runs up to the frequently bombed industrial complex at Thai Nguyen.

Rec Budget Talks

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District will hold a hearing on the proposed $63,238 budget for next fiscal year at the center at 8 p.m. next Tuesday. The district tax rate would continue at the maximum 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation under the proposal.

NATO Official's Praise Of Israel Is Condemned

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — An expression of support for Israel by NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio brought new dissension to the North Atlantic alliance today as the foreign ministers of its 15 members assembled in Luxembourg for their annual spring review.

Brosio hailed Israel for having "bravely broken the encircling pressure" of the Arab states. Leading delegates felt this seriously compromised key NATO members who have sought a middle role in the conflict.

Divsiion within the alliance over Middle East policy ran deep. The United States and Britain, although they tried to appear neutral, were tagged pro-Israeli by the Arabs and the Russians. The French, holding aloof, seemed to have escaped the censure of both sides.

The Scondinavian members of NATO appear to be overwhelmingly pro-Israel. The Turks, who once ruled a huge chunk of the Arab world, have been taking pains to assume a pro-Arab stance.

Court Splits Bus-Train Crash Funds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A total of 188 persons will share approximately $1.5 million under a court-approved settlement for the death or injury of 56 Mexican farm workers in a railroad crossing accident near Salinas Sept. 17, 1963.

A Southern Pacific train hit a farm labor bus at the Chualar crossing, killing 32 Mexican nationals. Another 24 were injured seriously.

An allocation of money approved by U. S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert yesterday apportioned a pool of $695,000 contributed by several defendants, including the Southern Pacific, Growers Farm Labor Association, Harden Farms and Myers Corporations of Salinas.

These defendants also contributed $80,000 to be paid to the State Compensation Fund in complete settlement of any liens on the court's settlement.

The State Compensation Fund has paid approximately $450,000 to the beneficiaries and will pay about $400,000 more.

Funds will be divided between the 24 injured and 164 heirs of those who were killed. Most of them live in Mexico.

The settlement provided that approximately 31 per cent of the court award will go to attorneys for their fees. They had advanced more than $35,000 to fight the case.

Black Testifies On Fund Switch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Carl M. Black, 48, on trial on a charge of embezzling $63,474 from a Sacramento Painters Union Welfare Fund, acknowledged he had transferred some money to a special account.

But Black testified yesterday in U.S. District Court that he later turned back the money from a "Carl Black, Trustee" account in an Oakland bank to Sture Youngren, administrator of the fund, who later committed suicide.

Black told the court "I would have been killed" had he not turned the money over. He apparently was referring to the shotgun slayings of Painters Union officials Dow Wilson in San Francisco and Lloyd Green of Hayward.

Black was acquitted in the Wilson killing.

SHIP TAKES WRONG TURN

This big gap in a highway about 10 miles west of Stella, Wash., was left by the submarine tender USS Sperry. Headed home to San Diego yesterday afternoon after taking part in Portland's Rose Festival, the Sperry had rudder trouble, and the Columbia River current slammed it into the shoreline road—apparently with no damage to the vessel.

Two Soviet Space Probes Are Launched

The Soviet news agency Tass announced today a Cosmos satellite was launched Monday shortly after an unmanned research craft rocketed toward the planet Venus.

The Russians beat the United States by two days in launching the latest Venus probe. Tass said Venus 4 was blasted on a four-month voyage to the cloud-covered planet from an orbit around the earth.

165TH IN SERIES

The Cosmos satellite was the 165th in the series of fact-finding flights and the fourth to be launched this month.

It was the first large scale Soviet space feat since cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov was killed in the crash of Soyez 1 last month.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the vehicle was on a "flight to Venus" and was "functioning normally." There was no indication whether the craft would land on the planet or fly near it.

BIG STATION

It carried a 2,433-pound research station, the heaviest Venus rocket ever launched, Tass said.

Mariner 5, the U.S. Venus probe scheduled to be launched early tomorrow, is to fly within 2,000 miles of the planet. The United States made the only successful Venus probe with Mariner 2 in 1962.

Venus 4 was flying "close to its estimated trajectory," Tass said. In-flight maneuvers were expected to put the vehicle on target.

Larkspur Official Loses Radio Plea

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst, fought valiantly for 30 minutes to keep the item of about $5,500 in the 1967-68 budget, to put radios in two public works trucks and cars of the public works superintendent and foreman, building inspector and city manager. "I'm buying efficiency," he said.

"I can't buy it now," commented councilman Neil R. Brixon. Councilman Vaughn Marker felt total cost of the six radios would come closer to $10,000.

BUDGET DELAYED

No action was taken on the budget, the council continuing discussion to 8 p.m., Monday, in city hall.

Salaries, to be discussed at the end of the budget hearings, were touched upon when the council twitted Bathurst about dealing not in halves of men but in quarters.

"The I-J criticized us five or six years ago," declared Brixton, "for cutting people in half. Now you're cutting them in quarters."

Bathurst said that he charged salaries of one-fourth of one man in street operations to the park fund and three-fourths of one man to the drainage fund.

STAFF REDUCED

Bathurst also reported there will be one-half less person in city hall next year with a half-time secretary, and said he decided he does not want a $9,000 bookkeeping machine he previously suggested.

The proposed 1968 budget is $847,614, or $67,911 above the current budget. Councilmen agreed to hold or lower the present $1.90 tax rate.

The proposed tax rate breakdown for 1968 is: general, 90 cents; sanitary, 66 cents; library, 10.5 cents; recreation, 7 cents; drainage, 7 cents, and retirement, 9.5 cents.

This would be a 6-cent increase in the sanitary district, a one-cent increase in retirement funds, but a one-cent drop for drainage and elimination of 6 cents for retirement of bonds, now all paid off.

RESERVE WORRIES

Councilmen were concerned over the proposal for $81,613 in unappropriated reserve in the general fund, Marker saying the figure should be about $100,000. Councilmen agreed they will try to increase the sum.

The council told Bathurst to present several plans for health and accident insurance for the 35 employees. A proposal costing $2,730 for such insurance is in the budget. A single employee would contribute nothing but a family man with three children would contribute about $16 a year.

Marker said he is very impressed with the city'sp rogram permitting high school youngsters to work during the summer with the street department and is interested in the program's expansion. Bathurst agreed to look into it.

The council also instructed the city manager to try to set up a council field trip to visit a drainage project in Arroyo Holon Creek on which the city received a low bid of $29,645 that was $10,000 over estimate.

Louis C. Franzes, 36, of San Francisco told sheriff's officers Sunday he was attacked by three men in Marin City about 1:15 a.m. when he stopped his car to ask directions.

He said one man approached him and asked: "How much money do you have, man?" The others attacked him and stole his wallet and wristwatch, he said. The report did not indicate the amount of loss.

Lynch Balks European Plane Tour

OAKLAND (AP) — A temporary restraining order obtained by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch has forced some 80 Bay Area persons to revise their vacation plans.

They had intended to be aboard a super-economy flight to Luxembourg Friday as scheduled by the Sir Francis Drake Travel Club, but Lynch alleged the club was engaging in illegal practices.

The order Lynch got yesterday accused the club of, in effect, illegally selling securities, although, Lynch said, the point might be moot since the plane involved, a DC7, was grounded in West Germany.

Lynch said the plane was grounded because of a ruptured fuel tank and was in such bad shape earlier that it could not be given a ferry permit in order to be moved from Oakland to Burbank, 400 miles.

The 15-day restraining order was obtained in Superior Court of Judge Leonard Bieden, who will hear petitions later for a permanent order.

Lynch said the travel club could be joined for a $50 initiation fee and dues of $70 a year. But this could occur, he said, only after a person joined the European Intercultural Society for $3.

The latter, he said, was operated by Steven L. Metz, 19, of Berkeley. The society and the Burlingame Management Corp. are co-defendants with the club.

Tram Meeting Set Thursday

A public meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in Tiburon City Hall to discuss continuance of the Tiburon tram service was announced last night by Mayor John S. Hoffmire.

Mayor Hoffmire said the cable car on rubber tires had, in its nine-day trial, porvided a link between Tiburon and Strawberry.

Councilmen said several commuters had expressed willingness to pay fares if the tram were in service permanently.

Fire Engines Going More Cautiously Now

Councilmen Fred E. Jensen told the chief at a city council budget session last night that he had heard complaints that the trucks are going too slow.

Trivett said the lights and siren "mean nothing" to some motorists, and the firemen "are driving more cautiously."

What with stereo radios in cars, or a woman with a carfull of children, the sound inside the car is greater than the siren, he said.

The chief also noted that the new engines aren't as noisy as older engines and don't sound fast.

Marincello Hearing Set With Oil Firm's Consent

Marin Municipal Water District will hold a public hearing tomorrow on annexation of Marincello lands after receiving consent of the prinicpal land owner, Gulf Oil Co.

The hearing, delayed since April 24 pending consent from the oil firm will be held at 1:30 p.m.at the district board room, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

District Mgr. William R. Seeger reported that he received a consent agreement from Gulf Oil yesterday.

Frouge Corp., which has proposed to develop Marincello, a planned community on the site, holds an option of Gulf Oil lands.

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission had scheduled a special meeting last night to consider authorizing extension of the water district's hearing date. The session was cancelled when the oil firm's consent was reported.

Marin County supervisors postponed consideration last month of a precise development plan for a proposed mile-long mall in Marincello until they could be assured that the annexation to the water district would proceed.

Warrant Out On Grand Theft

Bench warrant for arrest of Dave Townsel Jr., 20, scheduled for jury trial in Marin Superior Court on a grand theft charge, was issued yesterday on his failure to appear in court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set the new bail at $5,500.

Townsel, also charged with escape from county jail, car theft and receiving stolen property, allegedly stole merchandise worth over $200 from Harold Smith in Sausalito on Jan. 9. He gave his address as 135B King Street, Larkspur.

Mansion Drive Held Deductible

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Citizens for a Residence for California Governors — an organization which hopes to raise $500,000 in contributions ranging from $1 to $500 each — has received news that all donations will be deductible from federal income tax.

Leland M. Kaiser, chairman, said the group had received similar assurances from the state franchise tax board several months ago.

Kickoff date for the fund-raising drive is Sept. 12. It was set in the future, in anticipation of waiting some time for the federal ruling. Kaiser said there now are 1,000 members in the statewide committee, from both parties, and that number was expected to increase considerably by the Sept. 12 starting date.

Dodd Tells Senate He Did Not Profit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Facing condemnation by his colleagues on charges of misuse of campaign money, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd told the Senate today that "by any honest accounting, I have not profited one penny from public office."

The 60-year-old senator said in a speech prepared for the afternoon session of the first day of Senate censure proceedings against him: "I am not guilty."

He had listened impassively to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., his former good friend who heads the Ethics Committee that investigated him, say the Senate has the sad duty to vote censure.

Stennis said Dodd was given the benefit of every doubt but that he deliberately and wrongfully misused money intended for political expenses.

Dodd made his defense in a 17-page speech handed to reporters half an hour before he took the floor. He repeated much of what he had said previously, that he never knowingly did anything wrong.

Stennis dismissed charges by Dodd supporters that Dodd was accused of violating unwritten rules.

Stennis said it makes no difference that there is no specific list of "do's" and "don'ts" for senators. What Dodd did, he said, was "wrong on its face."

"There emerges an inescapable conviction that (Dodd) deliberately set out on this course of conduct to convert to his own use funds over which he had only a trusteeship or fiduciary control," Stennis said.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, vice chairman of the Ethics Committee, joined Stennis in a strong defense of the way it handled charges against Dodd.

Sewer Fees Raised For Novato Area

The Novato Sanitary District Board last night adopted an ordinance raising sewer conection charges from 60 to $110 for a typical house and hiking other sewer fees.

The ordinance is to become effective July 1 and allows for possible further raising of connection fees $25 each year, by board action.

Present charges total $125 in the Novato treatment plant area for quarter-acre lot, and $75 in the Ignacio treatment plant area. These will go to $185 in both.

The board also approved a fee of $225 for connection of a one-family home to a collector or trunk sewer which the district must install.

Other changes increased inspection fee and permit from $12.50 to $15 for sewer lines to homes, and set the scale for plans checking for public sewer construction in streets at three per cent.

The board approved a preliminary budget of $203,635 for next year, a rise from the $199,490 of this year. But the tax rate should drop one cent from 33 cents to 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation, said Enginer-Mgr. Charles Joseph, because of increased valuation.

A bond redemption tax in the Novato treatment plant area will be set when the assessed valuation is known, Joseph said. This year the tax was nine cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The budget sets $75,250 for operation of the treatment plants, $36,210 for sewer maintenance and $92,175 for administration and engineering.

Public hearing and adoption of the budget is scheduled for 6 p.m. July 5 at the office of the North Marin County Water District.

The sanitary district board also:

AUDIT—Authorized Robert Soderblom and Co. to make the annual audit at $450.

MEETINGS—Set July 5, 10 and 20 for meetings next month.

Hearing Is Set On Empty Shacks

Public hearings on abatement of empty shacks at 1136 Third Street and on Humble Oil Co.'s appeal from planning commission turndown of a permit for a service station at Novato Boulevard and Grant Avenue are scheduled for the Novato City Council meeting at 8 p.m today in the community house.

The council will open bids on city insurance, go over a revised agreement on design of city parks, and take up licensing Jim's Sport Shop to operate a fishing tackle truck at Stafford Lake.

leaders denounced the action by Harrison, heading a force of 350 guardsmen directed by Gov. Lurleen Wallace to keep racial peace in the near-by city of Pratville, scene of a Stokely Carmichael-sparked riot Sunday night.

The rioting spot in Cincinnati was in the troubled Avondale district.

One civil rights leader blamed the disorder on a growing resentment in the community against the murder conviction of Posteal Laskey Jr., who was sentenced to die in the electric chair for stabbing a secretary.

Three newsmen and a police captain were injured in the disorder. There were at least five arrests.

The Los Angeles situation was this:

Arson was suspected in the blaze in which 500 persons had to be dispersed. Four arrests were made. However, no injuries were reported in the south-central Los Angeles blaze at the National Sanitary Supply Co.

The company is located only a few blocks from the spot where the arrest of a Negro motorist in August, 1965, sparked the Watts riots.

Purchase Of Lagoon Area Wins Backing

Marin County supervisors today voted to purchase the 11-acre Muskrat Corp. property on the north shore of Bolinas Lagoon to block residential development and assure continued support from state and federal governments in purchase of lagoon shoreline.

The action came after William Stanley Picher of Belvedere, representing the Audubon Canyon Ranch, told supervisors the ranch would donate its own tideland frontage to the county, was moving to purchase shoreline north of the ranch, and would contribute $8,800 toward the county purchase of the Muskrat land.

HOME CLUSTER

It also followed a presentation by John Campbell, architect for Muskrat, of plans for 11 homes in three clusters on pilings along the shore, leaving the shoreline open and providing for public access.

Chairman Melton Ferris of the county parks and recreation commission, a resident of Bolinas, told supervisors that private development of the Muskrat lands would split up the county's proposed shoreline purchase into two parcels of less than 50 acres each. State and federal money is available only for purchase of more than 50 acres. The state has assured $172,500 in park bond fund for the shoreline purchase and the county has asked a matching grant from federal open space funds.

THE PRICE?

Price of the Muskrat land was not discussed today, but director Pierre W. Joske of the county parks and recreation department suggested transfer of $22,590, allocated in the current county budget toward purchase of Manzanita Green North of Sausalito. This, with other funds, would give $49,000 to buy the Muskrat land. There is a total of $27,000 unspent in the park budget, according to the auditor's office.

Later in the morning the county agreed to contribute $2,000 in tax funds toward a $6,000 study of lagoon ecology under Joel F. Gustafson of Mill Valley, biology professor at San Francisco State College. The Bolinas Harbor District and Marin conservation groups would put up the remainder.

MIDEAST

Arabs—450 planes and 700 to 800 tanks knocked out. A compilation of figures released by the Israelis showed more than 115,000 Arab casualties and 3,342 Israeli casualties.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the NATO foreign ministers in Luxembourg today the United Nations is the proper forum for settling the Middle East crisis, but he declined proposals from NATO allies to ask for a U.N. peace keeping force there.

It was not clear, however, whether Rusk's statement was a rejection of Israeli demands to settle its claims with the Arab nations outside the U.N.

British Minister of State Geore Thomson, telling parliament in London the U.N. should play a "vigorous and realistic part" in Mideast peace talks, expressed great concern about the human suffering in the aftermath of the war.

The Assembly meeting, if it is held, could be expected to be acrimonious. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli defense minister whose armies crushed the Arab's military might, warned today that Israel's battle to win the peace as well is just beginning.

"Those who sought to destroy us are defeated but have not accepted us," Dayan said in a victory celebration at the Wailing Wall in Old Jerusalem. "Put your swords back in the scabbards, but keep them sharp and ready."

REAGAN

cheek, passing a hypocritical bill."

Reagan said the provision could permit a physician to perform an abortion if he felt that the birth of a potentially deformed baby would endanger the woman's mental health.

Just last month, however, he said of the mental health aspect that there were loopholes, but he thought they were "Justified."

Both senators and assemblymen backing the bill were under the impression Reagan would sign the measure after they subsequently amended the measure to meet his earlier objections.

Today, he called for new amendments revising the mental health provisions, spelling out residency requirements and limiting abortions to hospitals with 70 beds or more to prevent "abortion mills." He also said abortions should not be performed in the case of Statutory rape unless the girl is under 14 years of age. The bill's limit now is under 15 years of age.

But backers pushing the first liberalization of California's abortion law in 95 years, pushing to a final vote in the Assembly, earlier said they would resist any changes.

They said they feared the Senate, which had passed the measure by a bare majority 21-17 last month, would rebel at having to vote on the controversial bill again.

Reagan was questioned repeatedly about why he didn't spell out his newest objections until just before the final vote.

He replied that he had been out of town, and hadn't had time to study the changes. Reagan left Sacramento Friday for a series of speaking appearances in Southern California.

Auto's Plunge Down Hill Sends Airmen To Hospital

Two Hamilton Air Force Base airmen were hospitalized last night after their small car skidded off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and plunged 210 feet down brush-covered White hill.

Stanley James Gomes Jr., 21, and Edward Junior Ming, 20, were reported in good condition today at the base hospital. Both received leg injuries and Gomez complained of head pains.

Gomes told the California highway Patrol he was rounding a curve eastbound at 8:25 p.m. at 30 miles an hour when the car skidded across both lanes and rolled down the slope.

It was the first time Gomes had driven Drake Boulevard, and reportedly the first time he had driven a Volkswagen. The car, which was a total loss, was owned by John D. Conkle of 5 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera.

Gomes and Ming were treated at Marin General Hospital, then transferred to the base hospital. Both are airmen first class with the 78th Field Maintenance Squadron.

Dinner Tonight In Priest's Honor

Rev. Edward J. Dingberg, pastor of St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda, will mark the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood tonight as guest of honor at a dinner for 300 people at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

Nineteen of those 25 years have been served in Marin. From 1948 to 1961, Father Dingberg was Catholic chaplain at San Quentin Prison, during which time he was in residence at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. He became pastor of St. Isabella's in 1961.

Drifter's Horse Still In Custody

Surprise, the 9-year-old mare belonging to drifter Kent Grigg, remained in custody of the Marin Humane Society today while officials pondered his failure to claim the animal.

Herbert Martin, director of operations for the society, said all that Grigg has to do is visit the society office at 402 Third Street in San Rafael, "talk the matter over and show us he has a place to keep the horse."

Grigg, 27 years old and unemployed, had turned the horse over to two girls in Corte Madera last week and later failed to remove it on request from the owner of a Mill Valley stable in which they had left it.

Vandals In School

Vandals emptied four fire extinguishers at Glenwood School, 650 Main Drive, San Rafael, during the weekend, police reported today. Two glass panels were broken on the case containing the extinguishers.

Commission Votes Lot Size Increase

Mill Valley Planning Commission last night recommended to the city council that minimum lot sizes be increased in the area bounded by Lovell Avenue, Old Mill Park and the city limits.

The rezoning would increase minimum sizes for 95 present lots from 7,500 to 10,000 square feet, and for 20 lots from 10,000 to 20,000 square feet. No protest was made to the proposed rezoning, reported planning director Harvey E. Bragdon. It will be heard July 3 by the city council.

Herbert L. Eloesser was granted permission to split a 15,000-square-foot lot at Throckmorton Avenue and Eugene Street, part of the area proposed for rezoning. Neighbors objected, but commissioners said the two 7,500-square-foot lots would be consistent with existing lot sizes in the immediate area.

Commissioners also granted, 3-2, a permit for a 120-bed convalescent hospital at 505 Miller Avenue. Commissioners Edward Farrell and Normand Black dissented on the ground that the plan provided too much pavement and building, and too little landscaping and green area.

Thomas Cooke, "701" planning consultant to the city, said the hospital, planned by R. B. Arguello and Son of San Francisco, would change the character of Lower Miller Avenue.

Commissioners Donald Batchelder and John K. Robinson were absent. Both intend to resign, Bragdon said.

Escape Hearing Held For Inmate

San Wuentin inmate William A. Carnes Jr., 39, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of escaping from the prison ranch Dec. 11, and is to enter plea at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Carnes walked away from the ranch while serving time for forgery in Riverside County. He was arrested in Las Vegas, Nev., in January.

Two Men Missing; Receipts Gone From Station

Two San Rafael men were missing today and so were four days' receipts, estimated at $2,000 to $4,000, from a Regal service station at 1011 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

The loss was reported yesterday evening by Regal district manager, Gerald W. Hifner after station manager Stephen William Scanlon, 24, of 1563 Lincoln Avenue, failed to arrive for work at 8 a.m.

After waiting until 11 a.m., Hifner called the Transbay Safe Co. to open the station safe, which should have contained receipts for Thursday through Sunday. The safe, which had to be drilled open, held nothing but credit cards and some coins, Hifner told police. A company auditor was checking the loss today.

Scanlon and a companion, Thomas Arthur Goldberg of 55 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, were seen at 2 a.m. Sunday at the station, according to police.

School Board Committee Is Planned

Sausalito School District trustees last night agreed to appoint a citizen committee to plan a fall bond election, reported Supt. Phillip W. Schneider.

Chairman Nathaniel Johnson appointed trustees David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith to draw up a list of nominees for the committee, to be submitted June 26.

The bond measure would help finance a proposed "educational park" on the Bayside School site. The $3.4 million cost of a new plant would be financed by $1.4 million in bonds and sale of Richardson Bay and Central schools.

Sausalito School District trustees also:

NARCOTICS—Granted $152 to the anti-narcotics education program to be organized by the county schools office.

SUMMER SCHOOL—Approved plans for summer school, July 5—Aug. 5 at Richardson Bay School. Registration is being handled at the school.

ABSENCES—Received a report from Schneider that 169 pupils, 16 per cent of the district's school population, were absent May 29 because Memorial Day fell on a Tuesday. Trustees previously voted not to hold school next year on Mondays or Fridays when holidays fall on Tuesday's or Thursdays.

Marinites Get Fresno Degrees

Four Marin County students were among the more than 2,000 candidates graduated last week from Fresno State College.

Curtis G. Johnson of Novato got his bachelor of arts degree, while bachelor of science degrees went to Louis F. Bissig of Olema, Richard C. Smith Jr., of San Rafael, and Timothy A. Moore of Sausalito.

Strawberry School Principal Appointed

DeVilbiss, now vice principal at Park School, was temporarily unassigned May 22 when trustees shifted assignments of administrators.

Trustees also appointed Mrs. Rosalie Clover, vice principal of Sun Terrace Elementary School in Mount Diablo School District, Contra Costa County, as principal of Old Mill School. She has been in the Mount Diablo District since 1947, and is president of the classroom teachers in the bay section of California Teachers Association.

The two appointments completed assignment of a separate principal to each of the eight schools in the district. In the past, three principals headed two schools each.

Both assignments were recommended by Dr. James A. Collins, new superintendent.

Mill Valley School District Trustees also:

TOILETS—Voted to replace a leased portable toilet building at Park School with permanent facilities, the $4,944 cost to be made up in 18 months because rental on the trailer is $235 a month, McConnell said.

TEACHERS—Hired 31 teachers for the summer session, and for next school year hired Joan S. Jackson as librarian, Walter Phillips as guidance consultant, and Dee Hideko Uyeda as a teacher.

RESIGNATION—Accepted resignation of Margaret M. Fitzgerald, sixth grade teacher at Tamalpais Valley School, and granted maternity leave to Ann Carter Soyulewski, first grade teacher at Homestead School.

CAN A SCOTCH MAKE HISTORY?

"It tastes good."

So, in a way, by making people change their minds, 100 Pipers is making history.

Which is only fair, since history is what made 100 Pipers. (100 Pipers comes from a long line of old Scotch whiskies renowned for their taste, such as the Keiths, the Glenlivets and the Macallans.)

If you're a Scotch drinker, it may taste the way you've always wanted a Scotch to taste.

If you've never tried Scotch before, we think you'll find 100 Pipers tastes the way you hoped it would. It's easy to like.

OLDE LEANACH COTTAGE stands today as it stood that fateful day on Culloden Moor, where the final battle of the Second Jacobite Rebellion, led by "Bonnie Prince Charlie", was fought in 1745 and where the flower of the Clan was crushed in 40 minutes of fighting. You can still hear the skirl of pipes from across the moor, or is it just the wind singing through fields of Highland malt grown nearby for the blending of 100 Pipers Scotch Whisky.

"We constantly strive to make ourselves worthy of your confidence and our ultimate goal is to serve you well."

JAMES BOND IS BACK—Sean Connery (center) as James Bond and his gang make a breakaway in "You Only Live Twice," Ian Fleming's hit of gals, gags and gadgets in Panavision Technicolor opening soon at the Rafael.

June Film Fare Bill

June ushers in the mid-year period of major new film releases. This summer Marin theater-goers will be offered one of the finest overall programs of adventure, comedy and drama brought to the county in many seasons.

Completely new entertainment hits will be featured at most theaters. Several opening this month will have extended runs well into July, enabling Marinites to find ample time to see them.

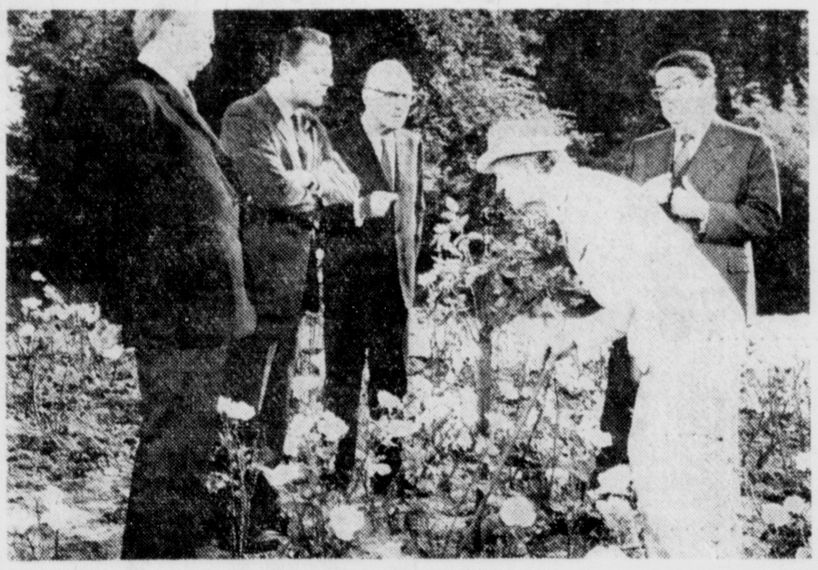
ALSO IN 'ZHIVAGO'—Doctor Zhivago (Omar Shariff) and his travel-weary family (Garaldine Chaplin, Jeffrey Rockland and Raiph Richardson) look about their new country quarters in Varyinko with dismay. Robert Bolt's screen play based on Pasternak's great novel is now playing at the Fairfax Theater.

'WAR WAGON'—Cast as a gunman, Kirk Douglas threatens Indian John Keel in "The War Wagon," suspense western also starring John Wayne. The Batjac presentation of a Marvin Schwartz production opens tomorrow at the Rafael.



'CASINO ROYALE'—A famed grower of roses, Sir James Bond is played by David Niven in Charles K. Feldman's spectacular 007 production "Casino Royale." Here Bond is urged to come out of retirement by four international intelligence chiefs, played by John Huston, William Holden, Charles Boyer and Kurt Kasznar. "Casino Royale" opens at the Tamalpais tomorrow.

'EL DORADO'—John Wayne, as the gunfighter, and Robert Mitchum, as the sheriff, tangle in the Howard Hawks production of "El Dorado." Based on the novel, "The Stars in Their Courses," by Harry Brown, this season's big western will open soon at the Tamalpais.

'SNOW WHITE'—Saddened by the deep sleep of their princess, from which she could not be aroused, the seven little men in Walt Disney's "Snow White" place her in a glass coffin where they can watch over her beauty night and day. The film will return to the Rafael Theater beginning June 28.

'UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE' — Problems of a new teacher in a tough big city school are brought to a dramatic pitch in the Warner Brothers production, "Up the Down Staircase," starring Sandy Dennis. The film, based on a novel by Bel Kaufman, opens at the Tamalpais June 30.

MISS TASKER RETIRING

Nurse Looks Back At Healthy Schools

The average San Rafael school child is healthy, ambitious and guided by parents genuinely concerned about his future.

So said Katherine Tasker, who will retire Friday after 29 years as director of health services for San Rafael schools.

"I can't say children are any healthier than they were when I started," she said, "but San Rafael has always been a community where children are well taken care of.

"One of the nicest things in handling kids has been the understanding and concern of their parents. I've always had good relations with the families."

GOOD CITIZENS

Commending student responsibility, she said:

"It's nice to see children grown up and become good citizens. I enjoy going down town and walking into a store or bank or driving into a gas station and being helped by those you watched go through school years ago."

As to possible threats to the health of children today, Miss Tasker mentioned she had recently seen a film on teen-age use of LSD.

"It was a shocker," she said, "but LSD is too new and there is no way of knowing what effect it may have."

Before joining the school system in 1938, Miss Tasker worked three years with Navajo Indians in Arizona and took school nursing in Chico.

FINENESS, DIGNITY

As a public health nurse with the Navajos Miss Tasker said, "I learned what extraordinary people they are. They have a fineness and dignity which we have to send our children to finishing school to obtain.'

Miss Tasker has watched the San Rafael school system grow quickly. The number of schools has increased from six to 16 and enrollment has bulged from 1,200 to 8,500. She has worked under four superintendents.

Noting improvements in health education, she said:

"We're more concerned today with counseling and guidance, rather than clinical work. We no longer wear uniforms or perform immunizations. These were an accepted part of school services years ago."

Since 1938, when there were two school nurses in all of Marin County, the number has grown to 25, according to Miss Tasker, with six in San Rafael alone.

"Today we are a big auxiliary force in the schools. We support the teachers by showing films, distributing pamphlets and counseling the child on what is important toward maintaining proper health."

Miss Tasker, a native of Los Angeles now living in Walnut Creek, said she has no immediate plans after leaving the school system.

Jail Term Drawn On Battery Count

Ronald Peter Koutz, 24, was given eight days in county jail and placed on two years probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday for battery.

Koutz, of Oakland, assaulted Lawrence Damonte Nelson in San Rafael with a club last Dec. 15. He originally was charged with felony assault but pleaded guilty to the lesser charge May 2.

Lagoon Life Study Fund Is Voted

The board of directors of Audubon Canyon Ranch voted Sunday to contribute $1,000 toward a proposed study of the effects of environment changes on the plant and animal life of Bolinas Lagoon.

The proposed study is to be undertaken by Marin County and the Bolinas Harbor District at a cost of $6,000, according to Dr. Martin Griffin, chairman of the Audubon Ranch board.

Officials are negotiating with Dr. Joel F. Gustafson, biology professor at San Francisco State College, who will conduct the study, Griffin said.

Griffin said the study is "essential for any basic decisions about the future of the lagoon."

Morals Charge Hearing Held

Daniel O. Parsons, 46, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on three counts of statutory rape of a 15-year-old high school girl and is to enter plea at 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Parsons, of 126 Cypress Drive, Fairfax, allegedly committed the offenses March 15, March 30 and April 14. He was arrested with the girl in a parked car above Marin City.

Three Policemen Added In Budget

By FRANK FARRARA

San Rafael City Council last night approved budgeting for three more men in the police department and two additional firemen.

Councilmen approved the additional personnel during a review of the proposed $639,439 fire department budget and $551,003 police department budget.

Regarding Terra Linda, the chief said he was concerned about the "initial response," because "it takes five of six minutes for the second engine to get there."

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen recommended two additional firemen. Trivett said he would station the two at Peacock Gap.

Fire protection in the Terra Linda area was mentioned again after Andersen noted that he eliminated a request for $35,000 toward purchase of an 85-foot aerial snorkel truck.

SNORKEL TRUCK

Trivett said the snorkel truck could be used in the Terra Linda area, particularly for multiple story buildings and rescue work. "Terra Linda is the biggest risk for lack of ladder equipment," he said.

Councilmen said they would consider the request for a snorkel truck next year.

The council cut $2,100 which had been allocated for replacement of the car used in fire prevention work and reduced the category for contractural services, including laundry and cleaning, from $900 to $700.

Trivett requested $17,950 for improvement of water mains and installation of large capacity fire hydrants, and $4,250 for extension of street alarm boxes in commercial and industrial districts. These which will be considered along with other requests for capital improvements.

LONGER SESSION

The council held a longer session with Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa and Asst. Chief Joseph J. Brusatori, but there were several digressions.

Chief Chiesa requested five additional men, two in patrol, two in traffic and one inspector in the investigation division, and also requested that one officer be promoted to sergeant on the graveyard shift.

Brusatori contended the department needed 27 patrolmen to cover the six beats, whereas it has 23 patrolmen and two traffic officers. He said inspectors were overloaded with cases.

Chief Chiesa noted that the department now has 56 employees including "16 civilians."

Councilmen approved an additional sergeant, an additional inspector, and an additional motorcycle officer.

OVERTIME CLAIM

When Brusatori reported that $5,032 in overtime has accumulated in the department in the past three years, councilmen bristled.

Councilmen contended they had cut off overtime accumulation three years ago.

Councilmen finally agreed the department could either pay the overtime and delay hiring the additional men for two months, or hire the men and give compensatory time off.

During the session Mayor C. Paul Bettini said there are "one of two" police officers who are "absolutely awful" drivers. He said he saw officers "driving like hot rodders."

Chief Chiesa asked for a report on any such instances, promising an investigation. If an officer is involved in an accident and he has made a violation, "he gets time off without pay," the chief said.

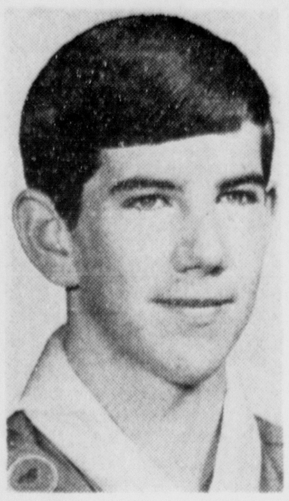
Councilmen agreed to boost the pay for crossing guards from $100 to $150 a month; raise the training, conference and travel budget from $2,500 to $3,045 and raise the miscellaneous police expence account, including blood alcohol tests, from $900 to $1,200.

RADIO DENIED

They denied the chief's request for replacement of a motorcycle radio at $925 and an exercise mat at $200, and cut the request for two electric typewriters at $900, to one at $450. They approved a dictating machine, ($250), a 35-mm camera and telephoto lens ($175), and an electric adding machine ($200).

The new total for the department budget wasn't calculated.

The council set no date for another budget session, but will do so at its regular meeting next Monday at 8 p.m. at city hall.



EDWARD W. O'NEILL

Eagle Scout Honor Court Set Today

Edward W. O'Neill, in scouting for nearly half his 16 years, will reach scouting's highest rank when he becomes an Eagle Scout at a court of honor today.

Boy Scout Troop 10's ceremony will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, 1510 Fifth Avenue.

O'Neill, a sophomore at San Rafael High School, became a Cub Scout at eight in El Paso, Tex. He joined the Boy Scouts at 12 in Salt Lake City, Utah.

When his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. O'Neill of 20 Alderwood Way, Glenwood, were transferred to the Bay area last September, he left the oldest Scout troop in Salt Lake City to join Troop 10, one of the oldest in Marin, sponsored by the church.

O'Neill is the troop's junior assistant scoutmaster and will spend this summer as a staff member at Marin Sierra Scout Camp.

The Eagle challenge, will be given by William H. Sherwood, new Scout executive of the Marin Council. The Eagle award will be presented by Eugene V. Martz, troop advancement chairman. O'Neill will be introduced by Scoutmaster Robert F. Goodell.

Tiburon Votes To End Fire Station Flooding

The Tiburon City Council voted unanimously, on motion of Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge, to correct drainage problems that have caused flooding of the firehouse in virtually every heavy rainstorm. It directed City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker to prepare a report on the cost of corrections suggested by engineer Philip B. Lygren.

These would include dikes and pumps to discharge water onto Tiburon Boulevard, with three culverts west of the firehouse to be brought up to higher grade.

The council also agreed to ask a representative of the Marin County Housing Authority to appear at a council meeting to discuss disposal of Hilarita Housing property. Strawbridge said the council should have a hearing to "see what the public wants." The housing authority plans to dispose of the property.

Russell Melquist, the city's new assistant manager, was introduced by City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose. He was hired yesterday at $605 per month. He formerly was a salesman for Litton Industries in San Francisco.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

AUDIT — Authorized a contract with Sleezer and Eckhoff, San Rafael, to audit the city's books at cost not to exceed $850.

ASSESSMENT DISTRICTS — Continued to the next meeting a discussion of the use of assessment districts for financing private development.

STREET LIGHTS — Introduced a resolution on a street lighting policy, but ordered amendments to specify protection of residents' views at night. Councilman Branwell D. Fanning said his neighbors in the Reedlands don't want street lights.

RECREATION SALARIES — Added to the city's annual salary program a director at $250 a month and two aides for a total of $247.50 for a two-month summer recreation program, jointly sponsored by Tiburon and Belvedere.

CLOSED SESSION — Adjourned at 11:05 to a closed session to discuss appointments to two planning commission terms which are expiring.

Strike Against Airline Ends

OAKLAND (UPI) — Negotiators for World Airways, Inc., and the Teamsters Union reached tentative agreement on initial contract yesterday after a six-hour strike by flight crews.

World Airways service returned to normal shortly after the pickets were removed from the company's headquarters here at 2:40 p.m.

World Airways primarily operates military charter flights.

Stolen Car Turns Up In Fairfax

A stolen car turned up in Fairfax two hours after it had been reported stolen to San Anselmo police Saturday.

Richard Schinazi of 30 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, told San Anselmo police at 10:45 a.m. Saturday that his 1957 Chevrolet had been taken Friday night from 1600 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Fairfax police found the car at 16 Hill Avenue, Fairfax, at 12:50 p.m.

Commissioners To New Posts

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night approved appointment of commissioners Byron D. White to the board of adjustments and C. William Thomas to the board of design, both for one-year terms.

The commission recommended deniel of D. M. A. Corp.'s request for rezoning from residential to commercial to permit a restaurant at 5839 Paradise Drive. It denied design approval extensions for an Atlantic-Richfield Co. service station at 5710 Paradise Drive and Arthur R. Nicolaisen's 22 apartment units on Deer Run Road.

Corte Madera Lions Club's plans for extension of the Corte Madera Recreation Center were approved.

Sliding Home In Tiburon Gets The Ax

Tiburon City Council last night decided to take immediate action to remove a sliding Reedlands home.

Owner Raymond D. Noel did not appear at the meeting to show cause why his former home at 34 Reed Ranch Road should not be abated as a public nuisance. A roomful of his neighbors showed up to urge the action.

City Atty. Robert I. Conn said the Noels' attorney had assured him they would not object to the city ordering the house removed. Mayor John S. Hoffmire noted he had 51 written requests for the abatement.

City engineer Ray W. Foreaker said the condition of the house was not hazardous since the rains stopped and that there was a 90 per cent chance that, if the house fell in completely, it would wall in on itself against the hill, not endangering nearby residences.

However, Don Thayer, president of Reedlands Owners Association, didn't like the remaining 10 per cent chance the house might damage other structures.

Neighbors reminded the council that with school vacation children may find the abandoned house an attractive — and dangerous — place to play.

Thomas Dumond, of 39 Terrace Court, estimated it would cost more than $10,000 to remove the structure. Hoffmire said the money would have to come from the city's contingency fund.

Conn said he felt the Noels would waive the 15-day waiting period required by law, to cooperate with the city's desire to demolish the house as soon as possible.

EDITH O'MARA

Teacher Retiring For Second Time

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

Mrs. Edith O'Mara will retire Thursday from school teaching for the second time in her career, after 11 years in Reed School District.

She came to Reed School in 1956, then was transferred to Bel Aire School in 1958. For the last two years, she has combined kindergarten with auxiliary teaching in second and third grades, assisting students who needed special help with reading in phonics and spelling.

Children in kindergarten at Bel Aire School are "exposed to reading and writing" and even start doing compositions. Mrs. O'Mara thinks the Initial Teaching Alphabet, used in the school, is a "good creative tool." She has found it stimulates many students who are rapid learners into starting composition early. From her experience, she feels ITA is not good for the slow learners.

BEGAN IN 1923

A native of South Dakota, young Edith Ford began teaching there in 1923. She came to California in 1937 and was married two years later to Thomas J. O'Mara of San Anselmo.

In 1941 she earned her teacher's credential at San Francisco State College and the following year, a special credential in speech correction at University of California in Berkeley.

She started teaching handicapped children in 1943 in San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts. In the fall, she took a kindergarten class at Drake School in San Anselmo. "I was afraid to take a kindergarten class at first, but, after I started teaching it, I loved it," she recalls.

She retired from school teaching in 1947 when she and her husband adopted a son, John. While she was a housewife and mother, Thomas was elected to the San Anselmo City Council in 1950, and was appointed mayor in April, 1952. He died that September.

SON IN COLLEGE

Four years later, Edith O'Mara again took up her teaching career in Reed School District. Her son, John, is a sophomore at San Jose State College.

Mrs. O'Mara during her second retirement plans to putter around the house, take accordion lessons, learn oil painting, and do some traveling. She would like to visit relatives in Ireland and see the British Isles, Canada and the eastern United States for a start.

She loves to read and often reads "far into the night" after correcting papers at home.

She doesn't expect to get entirely out of teaching, but may do some substitute teaching and tutoring.

TEACHER, PUPIL — Brent Ludvigson, 6, points to letters in an "alphabet train" which Mrs. Edith O'Mara's kindergarten class at Bel Aire School, Tiburon, put in place as they learned each letter. Mrs. O'Mara will retire Thursday from Reed School District.

Cycle Wrecks Injuries Minor

Two motorcycle accidents Sunday within a few minutes of each other in Southwest Marin caused minor injuries to three persons.

At 10:30 a.m., F. J. Aupperlee of San Francisco went off Shoreline Highway one mile north of Bolinas Road. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Joseph S. Feher, 26, of San Francisco, went off westbound Panoramic Highway, east of Stinson Beach at 10:45 a.m. He was treated for a cut forehead and his passenger, Sharon Cassina, 22, of Oakland, for a cut right foot, at Marin General Hospital.

Burglary Charged In Clothes Theft

A Corte Madera man was charged with burglary after two persons reported clothes stolen from the Paradise Launedrette at 5768 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera Sunday.

John A. Anzalone, 27, of 258 Balclutha Drive, was released from Marin County Jail on $550 bail. Mrs. Haddy Fridriksson of 267 Karen Way, Tiburon, and Robert Hackett of 9 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, both reported their clothes taken from the laundy at 4:48 p.m., police said.

If Taxes Keep Rising, Withholding Inevitable

The Governor seems to be overly stubborn in rejecting any possibility of withholding state income taxes, now or ever.

He has "put my feet in concrete" on this issue, offering instead a system of installment payment by the higher taxpayers who paid $200 or more in state income taxes for 1966.

We trust the concrete around his feet is the slow-setting type which will allow him to step out when the need becomes acute.

Withholding of state income taxes appears inevitable, as long as income taxes continue to rise. The only way withholding can be forestalled would be to keep income taxes at the present level.

But even under the Governor's own tax program, state income taxes are scheduled to double from next year.

No one can seriously disagree with the Governor's contention that taxpayers should be made to feel the cost of state government by having to cough up a lump sum income tax payment each April.

This theory would work under present levels of state income taxes. Many people have become accustomed to paying their $50, $100 or $200 in a lump sum every April. But with the Governor's proposed raise in income taxes, the same taxpayers will face $100, $200 or $400 lump sum payment from next year.

A $100 or $200 payment every April is "painful" enough. Raise that to $400 or more, and the amount goes beyond the "painful" category and approaches the "impossible" for many. Eventually, withholding, such as the federal withholding system, will be the answer.

The Administration is merely postponing the inevitable, and for the interim is proposing a substitute system of installment payments.

Installment payments would work in this way: Those whose state income tax amounted to $200 or more in 1966 would pre-pay about one-half of their income taxes by Oct. 15. Their second and final installment would come on April 15, along with the rest of the taxpayers who don't come under the installment plan.

Since income taxes are scheduled to double next year, the installment payment plan from the second year of operation would apply to those who pay $400 or more in state income taxes. A 10 per cent penalty would be imposed on those who do not make their pre-payment by Oct. 15.

In other words, if you are in the $400 plus category, you must pay one-half in October or be penalized. If you are in the $390 category, you pay in one lump sum in April, as at present.

Furthermore, one of the chief arguments for withholding is that it catches individuals and contractors who operate in California only part time during the year. They come, make profits and leave before the April tax date, thus paying no state income tax.

Installment payments will not catch these escaped taxes; withholding will.

Installment payments are unfair on at least two counts:

1. They discriminate between two categories of taxpayers — those who pay $400 or more and those who pay $399 or less.

2. They allow the tax escapers to continue unscathed, while regular taxpayers get socked for double or more from next year.

So long as state government is unable to hold income taxes to present levels, withholding seems inevitable. If not next year, the year after or three years from now.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Probably no legislative body ever will be able to devise a wholly equitable tax system for all the people of a city, county, state or nation for that matter, but this truism constitutes no good reason why they shouldn't try.

Over the years, state taxation becomes more inequitable as tax is added upon tax to meet the mounting expenditures of government. The property owner is penalized for owning property, while the renter pays no direct tax on his place of abode.

THE INDIVIDUAL IN the higher income brackets is penalized for making more money than the individual who makes less and pays not an equal share percentage-wise, but a lower rate.

Families with higher incomes pay both taxes to support institutions of higher learning, but their sons and daughters are virtually barred from scholarships, while youth from low income families attend colleges and universities with more money available than those from the middle income group have.

The person who uses alcoholic beverages and tobacco is penalized for this usage, paying more in taxes to various levels of government than the products themselves would cost if not taxed, while those who do not smoke or drink buy tax-free groceries, that is, free of the sales tax.

THE NEWEST ATTEMPT to put an inequitable tax into effect has been proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, in his suggestion that a levy be placed on usage of gas and electricity by individuals and firms other than householders.

Should a tax of this nature be adopted by the legislature, the inequities can be seen clearly. Business and industry, the lifeblood of the state's economy, would be hit with additional taxes, while the householder would escape free.

There is a logical political explanation for a suggestion of this nature, one which is as old as politics itself. Business and industry as such do not have a major bloc of votes in either political party, at least not enough to swing an election. Householders do have the votes, and therefore must be catered to with a view toward the next election.

DESPITE REAGAN'S avowed intent to provide California with a better business and industrial climate than it has enjoyed in the past several years, his proposal for this inequitable tax in effect performs a disservice to the very wheels upon which the state runs.

In addition to the utilities tax proposal, the governor's failure to act on repeal of the inventory tax in his program before the state Senate, also has caused much consternation among business representatives. Various business interests have attempted for years to eliminate this tax, levied by cities and counties, which many hold to be not only discriminatory, but unjust as well.

ALREADY, SOME business interests with multimillion-dollar investments in California have indicated that any expansion in this state is out of the question. Surveys made in the eastern United States indicate California is out of bounds for location of new industrial plants. This is not conducive to increasing the state's economy.

'Love Book' Is A Real Menace

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Lenore Kandel's "The Love Book" represents one of the sharpest rebukes to the dignity of womanhood in modern times. In deference to the cult of realism it strips her of her femininity and virtue and reduces her to the level of the brothel and the men's smoker. Unless its influence is abated it could lead to a reversal of women's role as the mother of men to the slave of men. It could change men from husbands to harem keepers. It could ultimately destroy our entire civilization through moral degeneration and abuse.

The essence of morality is restraint. Mature persons learn to control their emotions in order to release them into socially acceptable and reasonable channels. This enables them to express themselves without interfering with the rights of others to express themselves.

Sex is one of the most powerful human drives and therefore must be subject to the strongest of restraints. Historically, by granting her sexual favors privately only to those who respond with love and responsibility, women have enabled the human race to survive and move towards the millenium of peace on earth and good will among men.

The realistic and open discussion of what is essentially a private affair can only serve to unleash the sexual urges of the young and immature to the detriment of themselves and society. As a result I can only come to one conclusion. The book is not socially ameliorative but destructive, not religious but orgiastic and therefore not poetry but pornography.

Would-Be Impeachers Should Think Again

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Readers mourning the passing of Proposition 14 and inviting the impeachment of the Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court continue to forget fundamental legal considerations, such as:

1. The federal Constitution, part of the supreme law of the land, cannot be altered by even a one hundred per cent vote of the people of either one state or all states. It has its own built-in process of amendment through submission of a law by two-thirds of Congress or the state legislatures or conventions, and ratification by three-fourths of the latter.

2. The judiciary has the historic charge of interpreting the Constitution and of ascertaining what laws or procedures are inconsistent with it. The highest courts of both California and the United States have found Proposition 14 to be contrary to the Fourteenth Amendment. "Absolute discretion" is a government-sanctioned device to encourage sellers and their agents to racially discriminate.

3. The head judge of any court is its principal only for administrative purposes. All judges of a court have an equal voice and vote on any decision, whosoever authors it. We do not expect judges to entirely agree any more than legislators or cabinet members do. As long as each does his job in accord with developing professional discipline, he is open to constructive criticism, but is utterly unimpeachable.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

IN NEW YORK City there are several well-kept homes where young ladies from out of town can live within reasonable means. One night the sergeant in charge of the desk at the local police precinct received a frantic phone call from one of these Adamless Edens.

"There's a police officer wanted here," a voice gasped. "A burglar's trapped in one of the dormitories by some of the girls."

Noting down the address, the sergeant asked who was calling.

"It's me," was the anguished reply. "The burglar."

DON McNEILL, at his Breakfast Club, told about a country doctor who delivered quadruplets while the increasingly astounded father held a lantern. Finally, the father blew it out and explained hoarsely, "It must be the light that's drawing them!"

Miniskirts So Short This Summer It Scarcely Pays To Go To Beach

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The average man today says he'd like to live to be 100. But few who reach that goal yearn to make it to 150. Most centenarians would rather be 80 again.

It is easier to reform an alcoholic than an inveterate gambler. The alcoholic can substitute coffee or candy for liquor, but the reformed gambler finds it harder to discover another outlet for his betting vice.

A good enemy is far more helpful than a bad friend. At least the enemy will keep you on your toes.

Isn't it surprising how few young men lately have proposed marriage in a canoe or a hammock? They used to be very popular places for sealing a romance and plighting a troth.

NOTHING GIVES you more of a feeling of the continuity of life than to plant a tree in your childhood and come back in your old age and find it flourishing.

The guy in this civilization who always pays his bills in cash has the most trouble when hard times come—because he hasn't built up the reputation of being a good credit risk.

If it weren't for hypochondria, half of the doctors in the United States would be driving smaller cars.

A marriage is headed for the rocks if a wife feels she has to buy a two-seated power lawnmower in order to spend more time with her husband.

Few great pickpockets have been left-handed.

NO MAN EVER helped a grown, healthy woman sit down at a formal dinner without madly wondering, at the back of his brain, what would happen if he suddenly jerked the chair from beneath her and let her take a pratfall. It is perhaps the civilized male's most recurrent daydream.

Whenever I see an elderly man toiling along the street with his cane—but still jauntily wearing a fresh flower in his lapel like a flag of courage—I feel like throwing him a salute.

THE GIRLS ARE wearing their miniskirts so short this summer that it seems rather like a waste of time to go to the beach to see how little they wear there.

No matter how well a man builds a picnic fire, you can bet your bottom dollar that some woman in the crowd will sneak up and take a poke at it, certain that she can make it burn better.

Nasser's Stupidity Precipitated The Present Mideast Uprising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stupidity of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser precipitated the Mideast war. But the United Nations, the organization which might have been able to prevent it, dawdled instead.

It can never excuse itself on this. And there's no guarantee it will do any better the next time, which may be worse. But the war happened and now the furniture of the Middle East almost certainly will be rearranged.

ALL LAST WEEK the U.N. Security Council, knowing war might begin any moment, mumbled and bumbled over how to phrase a resolution calling for no war. Even when it began the council took two days to agree on demanding a cease-fire.

The United States, which claimed to be neutral but hardly would have stood by and watched Israel annihilated, and the Soviet Union, which said it supported Nasser, jockeyed around in all this.

Their motivations will be a subject of speculation a long time. It was a shabby performance by a world organization supposedly dedicated to peace and preserving it.

But Nasser's performance was irresponsible and it forced him to resign as president.

He is 49 now but he was a young man in the Israeli-Arab war of 1948 in which Israel shellacked the Arabs. He brooded over the humiliation but, as it turned out, he was impulsive. The first big demonstration of this came in 1952.

IN THAT YEAR HE and a group of fellow-officers plotted to throw out King Farouk, and did, to end corruption and get Egypt moving. But he later admitted he and his co-conspirators didn't know what to do when Farouk was gone. They hadn't planned ahead.

Then in 1956, two years after he took power, he tried a caper which would have made him a big man in the Arab world, and humiliated Israel, if he had gotten away with it without trouble. He suddenly nationalized the Suez Canal.

But the reaction was instant: Britain, France and Israel attacked, with the Israelis tearing through the Egyptian army as if it were a bunch of ragamuffins. This was a new humiliation and Nasser acted subdued for a long time.

HE LOST PRESTIGE among the Arabs. Some of the leaders detested him. He was accused of being a Western lackey, hiding behind the U.N. troops whom he permitted to patrol the border with Israel to keep the peace.

Meanwhile, he built up his military forces, arming them with modern weapons supplied by the Soviets. Then he made the biggest gesture of his life, and his biggest mistake, once again acting apparently without any real planning.

Using minor clashes between Israelis and Syrians as his reason, he called the Arab world to arms against Israel. Arab leaders, including those who despised him, rallied around, no doubt because they felt they had to. Nasser had made it a Jewish-Arab issue.

HE MADE BIG speeches, promised the elimination of Israel, and kept the world hanging on the ropes. Threatened from all sides, and with the United Nations doing nothing, Israel probably began the actual shooting war.

How else explain the fact its planes were able to catch Nasser's air force on the ground and destroy it? In three days Nasser's forces again looked like ragamuffins. This was nonsense, not leadership, by Nasser.

How else explain Egypt's lack of readiness for war after he had threatened to begin one? Thus Nasser brought a new humiliation on his people. Again a lack of planning. If he wasn't ready for war, he shouldn't have threatened it.

Among other places the Israelis grabbed all of Jerusalen, which they probably never will relinquish, and Sharm el Sheik, which they certainly will never yield without guarantees it can never again be used to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba.

Senate Questioning Unspent Arab Funds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Senate Subcommittee on Foreign Aid Expenditures is delving into one facet of the envenomed Middle East conflict about which the Johnson Administration is suspiciously saying nothing.

This is what is being done about unspent millions of dollars in economic and military aid allocated to the five Arab belligerents — Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Lebanon.

These so-called "undisbursed obligations" apparently exceed $23 million.

FEW OUTSIDE OF high inner officials are aware that considerable amounts are still credited to these Arab countries on the foreign aid books. This isn't known even to members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee — now in the process of "marking up" the President's proposed $3.126 billion foreign aid budget.

But the Senate investigating subcommittee, headed by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, has obtained authoritative unpublished figures that raise sharply pertinent questions. Foremost among them are:

Have these "undisbursed balances" been cut off, or are payments still being made?

What policy, if any, has the administration formulated on further large-scale aid to the warring Arab countries?

BOTH QUESTIONS ARE of key moment in what Congress does about the pending multi-billion-dollar foreign aid budget. There is wide sentiment for barring more aid to these nations.

In the past 15 years the U.S. has given nearly $2 billion in economic aid to Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon. Of this total about $1.5 billion was handed out between 1961 and 1966 — in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

No country has done more for these Arabs than the U.S. No country has gotten less in return, and been more viciously denounced and maligned. Throughout Congress, it is indignantly felt that if ever there was a glaring instance of "biting the hand that feeds," this is it.

So far Gruening has made little headway in learning what the administration is doing about these "undisbursed obligations."

UNLESS SATISFACTORY answers are forthcoming, he will hold hearings and summon State Department and other officials for thorough questioning. In preparation for this possibilty, his staff has uncovered the following significant compilations:

As of April 30, 1967, $12.223 000 in "commodity assistance" (surplus food) was still in the pipeline for Jordan and Iraq-$10,061,000 for Jordan; $2,162 000 for Iraq.

As of March 31, 1967, $6 337,000 in grants for specific projects was still being disbursed as follows:

Egypt, $2,268,000 for ground water development in the desert, communications training center, agricultural development, civil aviation development, national planning and administration.

Western Weekend Changes Are For Good Of Visiting Crowds

With the Novato Horsemen's rodeo at 1 p.m., next Sunday, the annual celebration of Western Weekend begins. This is the time each year when the eyes and ears of all of this area are turned toward Novato.

Several changes have been made in the celebration this year. First, it is not just a long four-day weekend this year, it is an eight-day celebration, running from Sunday through Sunday.

Instead of being the last big event of the celebration, the rodeo is the first. The parade has been changed from late morning to an evening parade. It will start at 6 p.m. This was done so that it would be run during the cool of the evening instead of the heat of the day. It was also done so that the crowd along Grant Avenue would not keep people out of the stores.

THE PARADE MAY attract more people this year than ever before, but fewer of them will have to stand in ditches to see the parade. In the first place, more sidewalks have been added to the upper end of the business district this year. Someday Novato may pull its business district out of the last century and install sidewalks for the full length of it.

The parade route is longer this year. It will not only go along Grant Avenue, but up Virginia Avenue to Simmons Lane where it will disband at the Pioneer Memorial Park. This is the first year that this will be done, and the first year that the city now has its own park in which to end the parade.

The grounds this year have been moved to the northern part of the city. Sunset/San Marin has given the use of the area north of its sales office of San Marin Drive. Not only will the carnival and booths be on the grounds this year, but there are many historical exhibits and other attractions to draw the crowd to the grounds.

THERE HAVE BEEN rumors that the same motorcycle club that created quite a sensation at last year's celebration will attempt to put on a better show at this year's event. Police Chief Robert Di Grazia will not be caught unprepared, we'd wager.

This is the first year that the celebration has been handled by Western Weekend Inc. Previously the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce spearheaded the celebration and did most of the work. This year the board of directors hired Mrs. Ann Trumbull to manage it. Through her efforts many new things have been added and the time lengthened. Now only time can tell whether or not it will be as big an attraction and financial success.

WE WOULD BE remiss if we didn't make some comment on the city starting the landscaping of the corner of Grant Avenue and Highway 101 by the main fire station.

Although it is just in the beginning stages, the addition of the concrete sidewalk and start of laying out the landscaping make a big improvement in it. It gives promise of being a thing of beauty, thanks to the ideas of a few people and the donations from the Novato Civic Foundation, Kiwanis Club and Indian Valley Nursery.

Have you ever listened to someone tell an interesting joke, get to the punch line and then forget it?

That is how many people must have felt when they read this column last week telling of the cub scouts who visited the Novato police station. Afterwards several of them wrote thank-you notes to the police. One of them wrote: "Visiting the police station was as much fun as visiting the zoo."

THAT LINE accidentally got left off the end of the story, so it was meaningless. We add it now so that in case you wondered why the last item was "bla," you will know it should have been "ha."

Probation Given On Bogus Check

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday placed Robert Allyn Voll, 44, on three years probation for forging a $72.95 check. He had pleaded guilty.

The period is to run concurrently with that for passing worthless checks in Corte Madera last March, April and May. He also was given 90 days in county jail on that account. No additional jail time was given in today's judgment.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Even As A Kid, I Rooted For David Against Goliath, Too

It is true we may learn much from a study of history. It is also true, however, that it matters whose history book we study. A lot of so-called historians, alas, are actually mythologists.

Many current textbooks teach that peach on earth would have come from the League of Nations if America hadn't torpedoed it. The villain was the elder Henry Cabot Lodge, who then headed the Senate foreign relations committee.

BUT FDR, WHO was for the League originally (but abandoned that position as a ploy in his quest for the 1932 nomination), gave us the United Nations after World War II. And at San Francisco, Secretary of State Stettinius ushered in what many believed would prove the Parliament of Man that Tennyson had foreseen. (Interestingly, the secretary's address was ghosted by one of the famous Hollywood Reds.)

And since then, as you've noticed, we've dwelt in a world of perpetual peace. Except, perhaps, for a few spots like China, the Congo, the Dominican Republic, the Gaza Strip, Greece, Hungary, Korea, Nigeria, Venezuela, Vietnam and sometimes w and y.

There were, even at the U.N. formation, Cassandras who warned against putting all our faith into the project and suggested we tread cautiously and keep our powder dry. Other noble attempts to erect temples of permanent peace, they reminded us, had succumbed to the confusion of tongues and toppled like the Tower of Babel. And, further, they weren't sure Russia qualified as a "peace-loving nation" — her record was against her.

BUT THESE DOUBTERS were classed as warmongers and practically exiled from decent society. Indeed, the enthusiasm of the dreamers was such that, here in Los Angeles, one textbook told how the Axis powers had been bested by the U.N. Which, since the U.N. wasn't born till after the war, was no mean anachronism.

As I recall it, a right-wing uproar caused the deletion of that poetic license, but the spirit remained. Until recently, TV was wont to run "public service" announcements telling how the U.N. was keeping the peace for all of us.

And it was tax-deductible for a corporation to spend millions praising the UN; but businesses sponsoring programs which cast some doubts on that body didn't fare as well—criticism was "political."

WELL, HERE WE go again. If even an uneasy peace comes to the Mideast, the glorious UN will get the credit. The Israeli victories and the behind-the-scenes negotiations will get small billing.

I watched — as you probably did — the Security Council open hearings, for here the characters, otherwise only names, come to life. And when the Soviet member spoke, I saw Nikita pounding his shoe on the table and telling the non-Communist world off. The leopard hasn't changed a single spot.

England and we are the "Imperialists" again, while the noble USSR is, as usual, defending the weak nations. Much as she did with Estonia, Lithuania, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

I didn't mind it so much when Egypt's allies echoed Nasser's claim of "foul." When you've sworn to annihilate your opponent in one fell swoop, and you lunge and the next thing you know they're counting ten over you, it is normal to issue an alibi.

NOW I AM NO Zionist, and I think the Arabs have a valid point in their complaint of the treatment of the refugees from Israel. But I couldn't care less about who struck the first blow.

For some two weeks, Nasser had been boasting he would exterminate the Israeli, and, as he kept rounding up allies like Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon and even Jordan, it looked as though there'd be a pogrom that would have delighted Hitler. And when a combined army of 1,262,000 promises to wipe out 275,000, what is the smaller group supposed to do? Wait 'til the colossus has wiped it out before hitting back?

Maybe my ancestry is showing, after all. I remember that as a kid, I rooted for David against Goliath, too.

Hub Youth Is Hurt In Wreck

A San Anselmo youth was injured in a motorcycle-car collision on Red Hill Avenue at Ancha Vista Avenue in San Anselmo Sunday at 2:35 p.m., according to police.

Gerry P. Woehrle, 18, of 825 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, was treated for scrapes at Marin General Hospital after his motorcycle hit a car driven by Thelma M. Calderoni, 47, of 40 Warner Court, San Rafael.

Police said Mrs. Calderoni turned left into the path of the motorcycle. She was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Teen-Agers To Face New License Rules

Starting June 30 drivers' licenses will be issued to 16 and 17-year-olds only if they have completed driver education and training courses.

Those who have not taken driver courses will have to be 18 to qualify for licenses. Those 16 and 17, when applying for licenses, will have to bring official certificates of course completion, according to Verne Orr, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles. Forms are available at most schools offering driver education, Orr said.

Marinite Presented High Military Medal

A Terra Linda Army colonel has been awarded the Legion of Merit in ceremonies at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Col. Royal E. McShea of 830 Pine Lane was decorated with the Army's second highest award for meritorious service by the Sixth Army's chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Norman B. Edwards.

Colonel McShea, who was Sixth Army assistant deputy chief of staff for operations and training, was cited for the outstanding services performed from August, 1964, to October, 1966. One of his achievements during this time was to reorganize the Reserve Officers' Training Corps Divison at Headquarters, Sixth Army, at the Presidio.

Before coming to the Presidio in 1964, he served in Heidelberg, Germany, as the assistant inspector general for the United States Army in Europe.

After nearly 34 years of service in Asia, Europe, and the United States, Colonel McShea retired on June 1.

The colonel is a native of Stockton, and a graduate of Stanford University, where he received his commission through Reserve Officers' Training Corps. He and his wife, Betty, have a son, Michael, who is an Army lieutenant stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

Sit-Ins To Start Sentences Next Week

BERKELEY (UPI) — Now that the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld the convictions of the 565 University of California sit-ins, many will start serving their sentences June 20.

Judge Floyd Talbott of the Berkeley - Albany Municipal Court said after yesterday's decision by the high court that all of the trespassing and resisting arrest convictions will be reviewed to determine what fines or jail terms are still outstanding.

Birthday Date Also Death Date

His execution date was set for June 21, his day of birth 27 years ago. The time was set at 10 a.m.

Thomas was convicted in Los Angeles of murdering his girl friend's 3-year-old son by throwing a Molotov cocktail into the boy's bedroom Oct. 12, 1964. He reportedly had had an argument with the boy's mother, Elizabeth Ector.

The latest execution at San Quentin was that of Aaron Charles Mitchell April 12. There are 60 men on the row, nine of whom have dates set for execution.

Transit Stolen

Novato Planners Approve Plans For Food Market

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved Kenneth Miles's plans for a food market building at Center Road and Diablo Avenue.

The commission ruled there could be no outdoor storage, no in-window signs, and fencing to the rear must be approved by the planning staff.

Tentative map of unit five of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates, of 75 lots on 26 acres west of Fairway Drive, was also approved, as was subdivision by Gloria Land of six and one-half acres into three lots on Vineyard Road at Sutro Avenue.

The commission referred the proposed sign ordinance again to the sign committee, to study city council recommendations and report on June 26.

Visit To Marin Ends In Robbery

Joseph Johnson, 26, of San Francisco, told sheriff's officers today he was robbed of $40 in the Bel Aire area by six teenaged boys he met in a South San Francisco pool hall.

Johnson said he met the six shortly before midnight, and they invited him to ride to Marin County to meet a friend. In Bel Aire, however, they accused him of being a policeman. One struck him on the chin, and then robbed him, he said.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Debutante Parties Planned Throughout Summer Season

By MOLLY MARIN

Competing with the brides for the spotlight in mid-June are the debutantes, for whom teas, luncheon and dances are legion.

Today San Francisco Ball debutante Cindy DuBain was the guest of honor at a luncheon at Trader Vic's in San Francisco. Cindy's mother, Mrs. Myron DuBain of Kentfield was assisted with hostess duties by Mesdames Gerald Stratford of Belvedere, Russell Pierce of Ross, John Robinson of Ross, and Bradford Young of Belvedere. Cindy's guests included the other Marin girls who will bow at the San Francisco Debutante Ball on Friday as well as other friends. Cindy, who was just graduated from Chadwick School, wore a yellow silk dress with pikaki lei for the tropical themed party.

TOMORROW MARIN Debutante Ball deb Ginny King of Belvedere will be honored at a tea given by her godmother, Mrs. William Shaw, in Kentfield. Pouring tea will be Mesdames Thomas Kewin, Mrs. Shaw's sister; Edward Solinsky, Robert Lancaster, William Woolston, Charles Cooney, W. C. Witter, Carson Magill and C. Russell Johnson. Guests will include the other Marin debs and board members of the Marin Charitable Foundation, which sponsors the Marin Debutante Ball in December.

Greeting guests will be Ginny, her mother, Mrs. Frank G. King of Belvedere and Ginny's sister, Libby King, who has just returned to the family home in Belvedere from her third year at Stephens College.

LOOKING AHEAD, more party dates have been announced for Marin debs—Next week, on June 20, a luncheon and swim party will be held at the Meadow Club for Michele Connolly, given by her mother, Mrs. John Connolly of San Francisco. Guests will be the other Marin debs and their escorts. On the following day, June 21, Lisa Dollar, daughter of the Jack Dollars of Kent Woodlands, will be the honored guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. Desmond Mactavish at her home in San Rafael.

On July 7 Ginny King will be the honoree at a dance at the Belvedere Tennis Club, hosted by her parents, the Frank G. Kings of Belvedere; and on July 29 the Belvedere Island home of the Ralph C. Noahs will be the setting for a luncheon for three debs — Janetta Michael, Jane Lindner and Ginny King.

BELVEDERE WILL also be the setting for the tea on Aug. 2 hosted by Mrs. William Steen for Marin deb Ferris Finn, daughter of the John Finns III of Mill Valley. The James Michaels of Belvedere, too, will entertain Aug. 18 at a dance for their daughter Janetta. Then on Aug. 26 Pamela Ward will be the honored deb at a dinner and dance given by her parents, the Jack Wards, at their home in Kent Woodlands.

MILL VALLEY TENNIS Clubwomen ended their season today with the ladies' annual rank tennis luncheon. This is always a fun day with tennis matches preceding the luncheon. Chairman was Mrs. Kenneth Stevens. Luncheon meetings will resume in the fall.

Opera Volunteers Will Gather Tomorrow At Meet

A group of women has formed San Francisco Opera's action arm in Marin spearheaded by Mrs. Edmond C. Ward of Greenbrae as chairman. The 25 women will meet tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Kieckhefer Jr. in Kentfield for a discussion planned to broaden opera attendance through afternoon and evening series ticket sales.

Not a fund-raising organization, the volunteers are dedicated to supporting opera with the largest possible audience for each performance this fall. Among projects planned is an opera preview program with a guest lecturer one week before the performance of "The Magic Flute." This is of special interest to Marinites as Mill Valley soprano Jane Marsh will debut in a starring role.

Bad Boy Of Fashion Continues His Ways—Decrees The Tunic

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—With what he calls veiled nudity, Rudi Gernreich has dealt a blow well below and above the belt to the lingerie industry.

As far as anyone could see—and that was to the hipline—the manikins that closed the fall collection here wore nothing at all under their diaphanous dresses with skirts that became opaque only from the hip on.

But if the California designer is not lopping off tops—as he did once with swim suits—he is slicing off the bottoms.

"I have no controversy about skirt lengths," said the wavy-haired man in his mustard-colored jacket, "as long as they are 12 inches above the knees.'

Indeed, most of his show was devoted to costumes proving that the dress is dead—long live the belted tunic instead.

Most of the time his models with their long legs swathed to the hips in black patent leather looked like pages from King Arthur's Court. Sometimes, possibly for wearing when the maiden aunt comes to visit, the models demonstrated tiny drindls that added length by fitting under their thigh-high tunics.

"By adding half an inch to a jacket it becomes a full length coat," Gernreich commented at one point as manikins paraded in deep-piled embroidered velvet dandy jackets and vest, satin shirts with ruffled wrists and belled trousers. A minute later the girl was back in nearly the same fish-tailed jacket and matching stockings.

Still later in the show the satin shirt appeared without the rest of the outfit, now worn over leggings—still another example that nobody really need bother about a skirt at all anymore.

Novato High Club Elects Officers

Elected to serve with her are Glenroy G. Grewe, first vice president; Stanley V. Onderdonk, second vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Back, recording secretary; Mrs. George R. Ungemach, corresponding secretary; Harold C. Bright, treasurer, and David Hearn, auditor.

Newlyweds Will Live In Mill Valley

New residents of Mill Valley by June 21 will be Mr. and Mrs. Peter Evelyn Gilbert (Peggy Anne Bevis of San Francisco) who were married on May 28 at St. Mary the Virgin Church in San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mither, Mrs. Constance Tydeman of San Francisco. Mrs. Dale Walwark of Sausalito was Peggy's attendant, and Guy Matthews was best man.

The couple is spending a honeymoon in England, where the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul Gilbert, will give a receptin at her home in Surrey. The bridegroom's father is the late Paul Gilbert. Order of the British Empire.

Nuptials Saturday In France

At noon on Saturday, St. Paul's Cathedral, Valence, France, was the setting for the nuptial mass of Louis M. Palleschi and Nicole Aquaire, the daughter of Monsieur and Madame Charles Aquaire of La Voulte.

The bride wore an azure silk peau de soie and Alencon lace gown with matching redingote. Susan Palleschi of Greenbrae was her maid of honor by proxy. James Palleschi of Los Angeles, attending school at the California College of Medicine, served as his brother's best man, also by proxy.

The bride attended schools in Tiburon and Valence, France, and in London.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Palleschi of Greenbrae, attended the Rochester Institute of Technology in New York, and is employed with the General Telephone Co.

After a tour of the continent, the couple will return on July 8, and make their home in Novato.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Here's A Teen-Ager Who's Found A Diet System That Works Great

DEAR HELEN:

I have found a way to reduce that really works.

I decided to go on a diet as I was really overweight, but I decided this many, many times before, with no luck.

This time I made a deal with my mom, and every week I lose three pounds, she puts $2 in the bank for me. For every extra pound I lose I get a quarter, but only up to five, so I won't try to go overboard.

As soon as I lose all the weight I want to, I get to take all but five dollars of the money and buy new clothes.—J.L.M.

DEAR J.:

Happy dieting—but be sure you choose a sensible diet that cuts down calories, not essential food. "Crash" programs knock off pounds at the expense of health, and the pounds come right back because you haven't trained yourself to think slim. Here's a letter which will give you more encouragement:

DEAR HELEN:

When I was 14, I ate because I had nothing better to do. The reason was I was already fat, which caused me to be grumpy and take the wrong outlook on life, so I didn't have many friends.

Then I compared the taste of all those fattening foods to the fun I was missing, and every time I'd be tempted, I'd think, "It isn't worth it." Pretty soon I thought myself into not really liking gooey desserts, etc., because look how mean they were to me! After two weeks of eating good, thinning food (meat and vegetables) I began to lose pounds . . . you usually don't lose much the first two weeks. Then I weighed and measured myself regularly, and it became fun.

Two years later, I have now become a "something" where before I was a "nothing," and a round one at that.

I'm president of my class and have all the dates I want, and I'm not that cute. It's just that I feel so much happier, like running, and participating in sports, and being friendly with people. I like myself now.

There's nothing like trying on a dress that was once too tight for you and having to take it in a couple of inches. For that thrill, you actually enjoy no-cal pop while your date laps up a chocolate malt.—GREAT TO BE SLIM

DEAR HELEN:

You once said that "going steady" is losing out among high school kids because the junior high children are taking it up. I think you're right.

How does this work with other fads the "babies" get from us? Like nylons, smoking, etc. I know some seventh graders that give us 17-year-olds the creeps trying to out-do us. Several of my friends quit smoking because they don't want to be taken for a "junior."

What status is there in nylons when even sixth graders wear them to school? Shall we start going without them in protest?—CINDY

DEAR CINDY:

I wish you would! And I wish your "protest" would start a nylon revolt among all school kids. Surely you can wear something less fragile and frustrating—like maybe good ol' skin in the warm months. Believe me, a well-tanned leg is much more attractive than a run on same . . . And I'll bet a survey would prove that at least one-third of the nylons worn at your school on any given day have at least one runner in them. That alone should be argument enough to start a "protest" movement.—H.

P.S. About the "junior" takeover: maybe the bad fads will filter down until they finally filter out. Hope so!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

RIGHT IN THE THICK of the fun are Jean Tolin, Holly Dexter, Vicki Wallis and Sue Russo, who are having the best time ever cooking bread around a stick. Cooking classes for youngsters and adults are on the program for summertime. (Independent-Journal photos)

Boys who have had a driver's license for at least six months are needed for the Red Cross Motor Service to drive volunteers to hospitals and to transport patients to doctor's appointments.

The Marin County Health Department needs a boy one day each week who can do line drawings, sketching, and cartoons. Another boy is needed to assist with audio visual materials and to help construct exhibits and assemble pamphlets.

Students possessing a current Red Cross junior or senior life saving certificate and water safety aide training may apply to assist instructors in teaching swimming at community pools throughout Marin County.

BOARD WHITTLING AT TAX INCREASE

by DAVID DIETZ

The Marin County Board of Supervisors advanced modestly yesterday in a bid to erase a projected seven-cent rise in Marin's property tax rate

In a seven-hour budget hearing, the board whittled $165,179 from the $28.3 million spending program recommended by Administrator Alan Bruce. This pared nearly a cent-and-a-half from the estimated 1968 fiscal tax rate of $2.365 per $100 of assessed valuation.

This year's rate is $2.295.

Yesterday's hearing was the first in a series taking up the budgets of the county's 37 departments. Supervisors passed four of them with minor changes, then wielded the knife on expenditures planned by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

ROAD TRIMS

Supervisors made most of the cuts in a $2.6 million road construction program, eliminating planned slide corrections and realignment on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at White's Hill, estimated to cost $128,000; proposed $52,000 replacement of a concrete bridge on Butterfield Road in Sleepy Hollow, and rebuilding of Sutro Avenue in Novato, estimated to cost $42,000.

Frost yielded without a fight on most of the chopping, in some cases suggesting the cuts. But he won board approval to replace certain projects with less expensive ones he considered necessary because of road damage caused by heavy winter rains.

WORKERS HIRED

Three new public works employees were authorized, two of them for building maintenance. The third is an assistant traffic engineer, whose hiring will be delayed a half-year to save about $5,000.

One of the maintenance workers, a gardener, was approved after the board inquired as to why youths detained at juvenile hall and county jail inmates were not used for such chores.

Frost said they were, but said the cost of supervision and frequent unavailability of the prisoners prevented proper grounds care.

"Look at this place (the Civic Center)," Frost pleaded. "It looks like we all went home. . . . "We're not knocking the program of outside help. I'm pushing my people to give as much support as possible, but these people need constant supervision."

Frost's proposed hiring of a part-time geologist at $5,000 to make studies of slide threats was put off when the board agreed it was a policy matter to be considered aside from budget discussions.

Hiring of a geologist was suggested March 3 by Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

KETTENHOFEN WARY

Referring to recent rejection by the board of the county planning commission's recommendation for an earthquake study, Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said, "I see the San Andreas fault slipping in the back door under the guise of slides."

The matter was scheduled for discussion by the board in three weeks.

The planning department budget of $379,132 was upped slightly at the request of Director Paul C. Zucker, who estimated 45 per cent of operations next year would be directed toward advance planning, up 15 per cent.

The department ranks seventh among California counties in expenditures per capita of county population, according to a recent bulletin issued by the California Taxpayers Association.

OTHER REQUESTS

An additional $2,500 was granted for the part-time salary of a housing code inspector when Zucker warned that the county might lose federal certification for senior citizen housing grants if inspections were not speeded up. Also added was $250 for convention attendance by planners, in a compromise from a higher request by Zucker.

Approved after little discussion were the budgets of Superintendent of Schools Virgil S. Hollis, in which few changes were recommended by Bruce for the Child Development Center and Juvenile Hall and Family Rehabilitation Center; of Dist. Att. Bruce B. Bales, whose expenses will be $267,297, up $30,000, and of County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, up $9,000 to $115,022.

The board adjourned in memory of Nickola Kojich, restauranteur and fisherman formerly of Tomales Bay, who died Friday. Budget discussions will be resumed at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Theater Plans Before Council

An application for permission to replace the Gate Theater in Sausalito with shops will be heard by the city council today at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Mrs. Desmond Mordant of Mill Valley plans two to four shops on the site in a pair of two-story 1,500-square-foot structures. The planning commission has recommended the permit.

Councilmen also are to review the proposed budget for legal services. City Mgr. George M. Patterson has recommended that the monthly retainer paid City Atty. Leland H. Jordan be increased from $400 to $600. He also has recommended that city ordinances be codified.

The last budget hearing is scheduled tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in city hall, when councilmen are to review budget proposals for the fire department, ambulance service and civil defense.

In Hospital

Byron W. Leydecker, 39, president of Redwood National Bank and former chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, remained in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital. He was hospitalized June 5 after suffering a heart attack.

Bread Truck Driver Held At Quentin

James Reece, 25, a bread truck driver who overturned the car he was driving in Fairfax Creek early Saturday while reportedly chasing a car driven by Carmilla Ettlinger (Yvonne D'Angiers), 22, of 31 Woodlane Avenue, Fairfax, has been transferred from Marin General Hospital to San Quentin Prison hospital.

In fair condition today, he was being treated for internal injuries. He was held at San Quentin at request of Alameda sheriff's department on robbery and burglary charges.

Chain Saws Stolen

A burglar who forced open a tool room door stole two chain saws worth $400 from the county corporation yard on Camino Alto in Mill Valley during the weekend, police reported. Lester R. Reeser, foreman, discovered the burglary on arriving at work yesterday.

Exposure Case Is Under Probe

A man described as in his early 20s, with blue eyes and light-brown hair, exposed himself indecently to a 14-year-old Novato girl at 4:30 p.m. yesterday on McClay Road, according to Novato police.

The man was in an off-white or beige hard-top convertible, the girl said. Description of man and car match those in several other recent indecent exposure reports in Novato.

Two Face Dope Charges After Domestic Squabble

Sheriff's officers said Mrs. Frances A. Bogoslovski at 704 Hacienda Way, Santa Venetia, telephoned about 5:30 a.m. that her ex-husband was at the home with a car loaded with narcotics.

While they were questioning Bogoslovski, Drake arrived.

Officers searched the car, found 66 tablets, two syringes and three syringe needles, and a partially smoked cigarette believed to be marijuana. Also found in the car was a switchblade knife.

Drake was booked in county jail for investigation of marijuana and narcotics possession, having paraphernalia for using narcotics, and having a switchblade. Bogoslovski was booked for marijuana and narcotics possession. Both remained in jail today in lieu of $1,000 bail each.

Timetable Set On Tunnel Delay

Action on Northwestern Pacific Railroad's fourth request for an extension of the deadline for reopening its Puerto Suello tunnel will not be taken by the California Public Utilities Commission for another two or three weeks, a commission spokesman said today.

The commission may then either call a public hearing on the petition, or grant or deny the request without a hearing, the spokesman said.

The railroad asked deadline extensions to Oct. 31. Originally scheduled to open a year ago, extensions have been granted to Dec. 31, 1966, to Feb. 28 and to June 30.

Spare Tire Stolen

Harold Dobbs Again To Oppose Shelley

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Republican Harold S. Dobbs, who lost to Mayor John F. Shelley in the mayoral race in 1963, announced yesterday he'll run against his old foe again.

He pledged to give San Francisco "a sensible economy" and promised to "return the Police Department back to the chief." He declared himself against hippies who "take over our streets."

West Marin Board Sees 40-Cent Tax Cut

West Marin School District taxpayers can expect a 40-cent tax reduction next year under a tentative budget approved last night by district trustees, Supt. Howard F. Brose reported today.

Next year's budget, if adopted in final hearings, will drop to about $226,000 from this year's $238,000, Brose said. The lower budget plus expected increase in the district's assessed valuation, he said, should lop about 40 cents off the current tax of $2.945 per $100 of valuation.

Brose said the reduction resulted largely from trimming a proposed new bus and some furniture purchases from the budget.

Trustees also improved a new pay scale for teachers, including $240 in fringe benefits, and raising the scale from $5,600-to $10,000 to $5,600-to-$11,220.

The board was advised by the county schools office that a psychologist and part-time secretary would be assigned at county expense to work out of West Marin School and serve the entire district.

The school hired Jean Van Pelt as fifth and sixth grade teacher at a salary of $7,840.

Innocent Plea By Dog Beater On Cruelty Rap

Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled jury trial for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 10, then released Hassall without bail.

Hassall, of 109 Dogwood Lane, Bolinas, allegedly used a two-by-four board June 5 to critically injure a German Shepherd-Alaskan husky dog owned by James C. Gibson of 85 Dogwood Lane. The dog, Likey, was later found abandoned but still alive in roadside weeds. He was responding to treatment yesterday.

Sheriff's officers said Hassall admitted beating the chained dog in Gibson's front yard because it has killed some cats. Hassall's resignation as a teacher was accepted Wednesday by Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees.

He appeared for arraignment in court yesterday represented by Martin Ruane, San Francisco attorney.

Fairfax Planners Rap Reversals By Council

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Fairfax Planning Commission — or what remains of it after a rash of resignations — rapped the city council gently on the knuckles last night for reversing commission decisions.

Leo T. Cronin, acting commission chairman, told council members in a letter that their recent actions allowing a printing press to operate in a residential area and allowing a lot split "leave us few who remain on the commission somewhat dismayed."

LETTER NOT READ

The letter, introduced at last night's meeting of the city council but not read in public, pointed out that detailed minutes of planning commission meetings were available to the city council.

Cronin wrote, "It is our further understanding that a reversal of our opinions was acted upon without reference to minutes of our meeting."

Mrs. Harold Taft is the latest to leave the planning commission. Her resignation last night due to "pressure of business" brought to four the number of commission vacancies.

MEETINGS HALTED

The commission now finds itself without sufficient members to hold further meetings, said Cronin.

Vice-Mayor Robert R. Souza said there had been 14 applications for the vacancies on the commission. Before its regular meeting, the council interviewed six candidates in closed session. Eight more are to be interviewed Thursday and appointments are expected at a special meeting Monday.

The council denied a request by Charles L. Trost, new owner of two homes on Forrest Avenue severely damaged by slide action, for a delay in the time he has to start work either repairing or demolishing them.

STILL SLIDING

Building Inspector Lester A. Britton said the houses at 90 and 96 Forrest Avenue began to slide during January's heavy rains and are continuing to move steadily.

City Engineer Richard J. Nelson said there was a danger to another house below the Trost property.

Police Chief James Orr, whose men worked with federal narcotic agents last week to uncover in Fairfax one of the biggest hauls of drugs in Northern California, came out strongly in favor of a county-wide drug and narcotic control bureau.

He said he was being tipped off regularly about drug pushers but was powerless to do anything unless he could get someone to make a purchase and gain evidence.

The council accepted his recommendation to endorse the bureau, which, he said, would help local forces grapple with a problem "expected to get worse before it gets any better."

City Engineer Nelson told the council how residents of Valley Road, Willis Lane and Chester Avenue were collecting money among themselves to finance their own road improvements. The council authorized city crews to assist in preparing the roads prior to a private contractor paving for residents at a total cost of more than $1,000.

Fairfax City Council also:

BLASTING — Granted a blasting permit to Richard Peterson and Son to construct a swimming pool at 144 Laurel Drive.

BUDGET — Adjourned to a budget session at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Fairfax Women's Club.

Hearing On Budget Set In August

The Kentfield School District board last night set a public hearing on the district's fiscal 1968 budget now estimated at $1,260,365, for Aug. 7.

No change is expected in the district's present $3.30 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

The board awarded a three-year contract for grounds maintenance to low bidder Forster and Kroeger Co. of Larkspur for $835 a month. Two bids were taken last Friday. High bidder was A. and J. Shooter Inc. of Larkspur at $1,350 a month.

The board asked Bacich to find out the tax cost of continuing participation in the county schools remedial speech program, and to develop some plans for a new science classroom at Adaline E. Kent School.

Resignations of Spanish teacher Esther M. Johnson and intermediate teacher Evelyn T. MacKinnon were accepted. Elizabeth Lyons was hired to teach at Wolfe Grade School.

A closed session followed the regular board meeting to discuss "appointment, employment or dismissal of a certified employee," but no action was taken, Bacich said.

Ex-Chancellor To Retire From U.C.

BERKELEY (AP) — Edward W. Strong, who resigned as Berkeley chancellor in the heat of the "Free Speech" disturbances in December 1964, is retiring from the University of California faculty.

Strong will be honored during Commencement exercises Thursday. It will be his first public appearance on the Berkeley campus since he stepped down "for reasons of health" after a student sit-in broken up by police action at Sproul Hall.

Tennis Court Fee Setup Proposed In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended unanimously to the city council that fees be charged for using tenning courts in Boyle Park.

Don Dimitratos, parks and recreation director, said the recommendation was in response to a suggestion by Councilman George E. Wickham.

The commission proposed charges be 25 cents for residents and 50 cents for non-residents, for two games. The charges would be for individuals, not courts. A person to collect the charges should be on duty at the courts from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., commissioners said. Dimitratos suggested cards could be issued to city residents.

Mill Valley Recreation Commission Also:

CLUBHOUSE — Asked representatives of the Lions and Women's Golf clubs to attend the July 10 commission meeting to consider doubling their annual rental for weekly use of the Mill Valley Golf clubhouse from $200 to $400.

OLD MILL — Approved plans by the Center for the Performing Arts to set up temporary seating for 250 persons and a portable stage in Old Mill Park this summer. "Only a couple of half-dead bay trees" will be removed to make room for the amphitheater, said Dimitratos.

CLASSES — Raised from 20 to 30 per cent the cut taken by the city from fees charged for classes sponsored by the recreation department.

PROJECT 17 — Complained that the commission should have been consulted in preliminary planning for a joint school and city recreation facility in the Project 17 area.

BOYLE PARK — Agreed to use the major part of capital improvement funds in fiscal 1969 and 1970 to implement $40,000 in improvements envisioned by the master plan for Boyle Park. A restroom and parking area for $7,000 are budgeted for fiscal 1968.

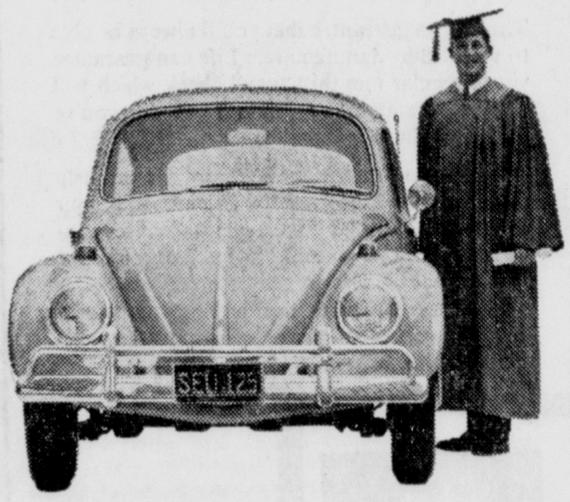
A Piano Recital

Music students of Constance Yates of San Rafael will present a piano recital at 3 p.m. Sunday at Tamalpais Center Woman's Club on College Avenue, Kentfield.

Recital Saturday

Piano students of Madonne Tschache will be presented in their annual recital at the Tschache residence in Novato at 3 p.m. Saturday.



Give him something to look for a job in.

You've given him an education. And he's made the grade. Now he has to face the world. Is he ready? You can give him one small, dependable thing to help push him along life's road (or freeway): a Volkswagen. A VW is great for following up job leads. It averages 29 mpg. Probably will never need oil between changes. Guaranteed not to heat up...or use anti-freeze. And its tires will go 35,000 miles. Even insurance costs less. A VW is the perfect graduation gift. Its economy features go on and on even after he has a job. So, give the kid a VW. He'll love it, and you'll feel better knowing there's a dependable VW carrying him to his place in the sun.

Reagan Defends Mental Staff Cuts; Critics Reply

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov.W Ronald Reagan and his mental health critics stepped up the pace of their disagreements today — this time about whether California is "No. 1" in the field nationally.

The Republican governor went on radio and television last night in one of his occasional "reports to the people" and declared despite his cutbacks, "We are No. 1 in the nation in the care of the mentally ill . . ."

That point — and others — was disputed afterward by Dr. Irving Philips, an associate professor at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco and chairman of the Inter-District Branch Committee respresenting the various psychiatric societies.

"We are not the No. 1 state in the nation in the treatment of the mentally ill or mentally retarded," Philips said. "The citizens of Kansas and Iowa pay less for mental health and have high staffing ratios."

Reagan termed the elimination of 2,830 mental health jobs the logical extension of the new state policy of "taking our patients out of the storage places — the hospitals — treating them in local health care centers and returning them to normal life."

Meanwhile, the Citizen Committee for Improved Treatment in Our State Hospitals issued its latest news release protesting cutbacks.

The group mailed letters to all legislators and Reagan. Each envelope contained a piece of chewing gum—designed to communicate, they said, the idea of "let's not gum up the works!"

They also have sent the governor pennies and a needle and thread.

About 6,000 burials a year take place at Arlington National Cemetery.

Two Injured In Car Wreck

A Novato youth and a Mill Valley woman were reported in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital with injuries suffered Sunday evening in a two-car collision in Mill Valley.

Terence W. Young, 20, of 767 Plaza Amapola, suffered a dislocated left shoulder. Harriet B. Wagner-Smith, of 15 Monte Cimas Avenue, suffered multiple cuts and bruises.

Young was cited for speeding and failure to stop at a stop sign. He was driving through the intersection of Miller and Montford avenues, police said, when his car collided with one driven by Joseph Wagner-Smith, 64, in which Mrs. Wagner-Smith was a passenger.

Earth Sea Wall Contract Is Let

Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael yesterday was awarded a $8,420 contract to repair the earth sea wall at Hamilton Air Force Base by the base procurement office.

Henry's Service of Stinson Beach was awarded a $4,800 contract for refuse collection for the Mill Valley Air Force station.

Fuel Not Taken On During Mishap

Fueling was done at 7 a.m. Saturday on the commercial fishing boat Elsie Ann, which exploded, burned and sank near the Richfield fuel dock in Sausalito three hours later.

It was reported to the Independent-Journal Saturday that boat owners were taking on fuel at the time of the accident.

Joe Gibbon Gets Chance To Start

HOUSTON (AP) — Southpaw Joe Gibbon is manager Herman Franks' choice tonight against the Houston Astros to put the San Francisco Giants back into winning stride.

The Astros dumped the Giants last night, 5-2, with a four-run eighth inning rally featuring Jim Wynn's two-out three-run homer.

The defeat by Houston put the third-place Giants five games back of Cincinnati, National League leaders, and three behind second place St. Louis, beaten 7-5 by Pittsburgh.

Lindy McDaniel, relief specialist making his first start in five years, hurled effectively through six innings. He held the Astros to one run on four hits.

With the score tied at 1-1, McDaniel was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Norm Siebern delivered a smashing line shot single that Julian Gotay managed to stop.

Gotay threw wildly to first, however, and Bob Schroder scored on the throwing error for a 2-1 San Francisco lead.

Frank Linzy, relieving McDaniel, was tagged for a lead-off double by Bob Aspromonte in the eighth. Ron Brand pushed a bunt single past Linzy. Norm Miller grounded into a double play, but Aspromonte scored the tying run.

Linzy took the loss for a 3-3 record. Larry Dierker, who scattered eight hits, was the winner for a 6-4 record.

Tonight's game starts at 6 o'clock, PDT.

TWO U.S. OPEN SIGNS THAT WON'T BE USED

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP) — There are a great many notices, lists and posters stuck up on the bulletin board in the caddy area at the Baltusrol Golf Club. And two signs that won't be needed.

The signs, which the caddies carry to identify players in the U.S. Open golf championship, read Sam Snead, and Ed Furgol.

Those Poor Typesetters If Red Sawks Win Flag

The ascendancy of the Boston Red Sox, hereinafter known as the "Sawx" or "Red Sacks," has occasioned considerable surprise in the American League, including also parts of Cape Cod, otherwise known as "Cawd" or "Cape Cad."

BUT I AM ABLE to report to you authoritatively today the rise of the Sawks comes as no surprise to the writer and I know their secret. It's syllables.

The Red Sawks lead the league in syllables. Laid end-to-end, their roster would reach clear across Rhode Island and dip into parts of Danielson, New Haven, and the Boston Post Road.

GET A LOAD of them—C-o-n-i-g-l-i-a-r-o, Y-a-s-t-r-z-e-m-s-k-i, P-e-t-r-o-c-e-l-l-i, to pick a few at random. Down on the farm, they have a R-o-g-g-e-n-b-u-r-k. Of course, they also have a Smith and a Jones. But it's "R-e-g-i-n-a-l-d" Smith and "D-a-l-t-o-n" Jones. No Tom, Dick and Harry for Sawks, no sir! They also have a Santiago and Tartabull kicking about in the far reaches of their roster.

Draft For Vowels And Consonants

The Red Sox draft for vowels and consonants. They don't tape measure the guy's hits, they tape measure his last name. For instance, when the scout picked up Yastrzemski (you get a season pass if you can spell his name the first time around), the conversation went something like this:

SCOUT: "Boss, have we got a kid for you! Can hit, run and field . . ."

Scouft: "Yastrzemski."

Yawkey: "Gesundheit."

Scout: "No, no, boss, not Gesundheit, Yastrzemski."

YAWKEY: "Say, have you got a cold?"

Americo Petrocelli came to the club the same way.

Scout: "Boss, how would you like to have Petrocelli?"

Yawkey (excited): "Sign him, you dunderhead! He'll fill the gap at shortstop! We need some guy whose autograph trails in the dirt!"

THERE'LL COME a day when Yawkey will regretfully get on the phone to Jerold C. Hoffberger of Baltimore:

Yawkey: "Jerry? You know that kid catcher you got? Victor E. Roznovsky! How would you like Joe Foy for him?"

Take Anybody Under Two Syllables

YAWKEY: "Listen! Throw in Myron W. Drabowsky and I'll let you have George Scott. And George Smith, too. Jerry, you can take anybody on my roster under two syllables!"

Hoffberger: "But, Tom! The league needs balance. Scott, Smith! Foy! Foy is going to be a great player!"

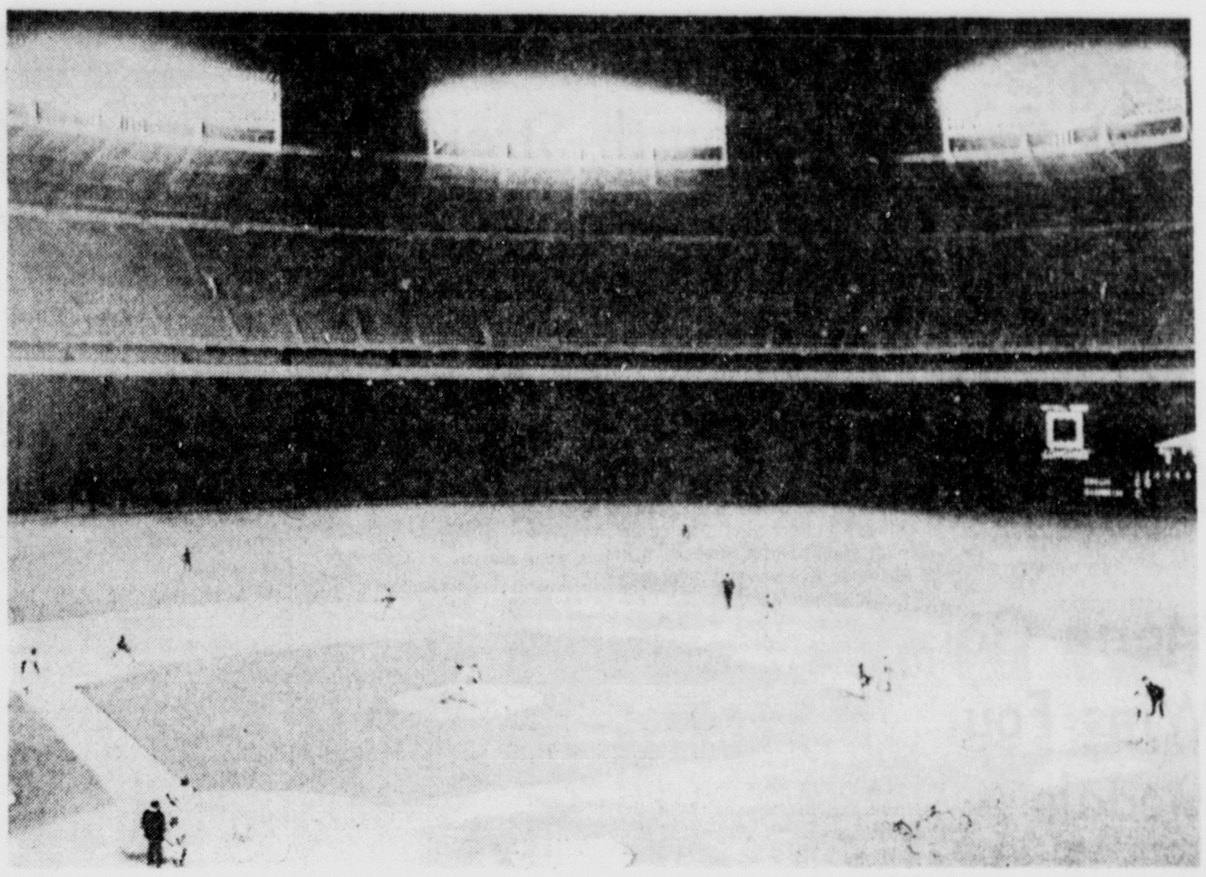
Yawkey (embarrassed): "I know, Jerry. But how do you think 'Joe Foy' looks on our lineup card! Why, it's downright embarrassing. I fired the scout who signed him. Couldn't spell, I guess. By the way, what's your full name, Jerry?"

Hoffberger: "Jerold C. Hoffberger."

There's a silence.

Yawkey: "Jerry, have you ever thought of joining the Red Sox organization? I could move Tom Dowd upstairs."

IF THE SAWKS win the pennant, every linotyper in the country is going to have a nervous breakdown. Especially when it comes to headlines like "Conig-(cont'd on page 3) liaro drives in Pet-(cont'd on page 5) rocelli and Yes-(cont'd on page 7) trzemski." And also when they have to set the Red Sox fight song: "Oh, Petrocelli/Likes vermicelli/Conigliaro/eats pizza new/But Carl Yastrzemski/Is not so dense-ski/He uses all the alphabet, too!



SIX HOURS LATER—The stands nearly empty, dawn not far away, Paul Casanova of the Washington Senators singles to score Hank Allen from third and end the longest night game in baseball history—six hours and 38 minutes— in the 22nd inning against the Chicago White Sox. (UPI Telephoto)

Put the San Rafael Braves into a hole, even a small one, and see what happens.

You get busted, one way or another.

The Bellingham Bells of Washington made the mistake of taking a 1-0 lead over the Litchfield's entry in the Western Baseball Association last night at Albert Field, San Rafael.

That was in the second inning. In the fourth, it was 9-1, San Rafael, and at the end of a long game, it was 10-6, and that's what taking a lead against the Braves gets you.

It was San Rafael's fourth straight come-from-behind win and gives the Braves a 4-0 record in their division of the WBA, putting them in a class of fast starters with Parnelli Jones.

LEAD DWINDLES

After the Washington entry had scored in the top of the second off starter Ron Gilliam, the Braves came back in their half of the third on a gamble.

Bellingham starter Bill Schofield walked the first two batters, then found all the bases full after an infield error. Braves manager Joe Anselmo yanked Gilliam for pinch hitter Bill Connelly. Connelly got the job done, getting hit by a pitch and forcing in a run. A high sacrifice fly by Jerry Bosch brought in another run and Rich Jeffries beat out an infield bounder to knock in the final run of the inning.

WACKY INNING

In the third, the Braves had two out and Joe Panella on first with a clean single. It turned out to be a wacky, wild, six-run inning.

Panella started it with a steal of second. Schofield hit Nick Willard with a pitch. Paul Giambra then hit one back at Schofield who was in no position to field it. Turning with his follow through, Schofield was hit on the seat of his pants with the ball, and by the time it was fielded, the bases were loaded. One run was scored when Bosch got on via an error. Another run came

Joe Frazier, Chuvalo Bout Is Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, will meet in a 12-round battle of heavyweight contenders at Madison Square Garden July 19, the Garden announced today.

The bout will be telecast nationally.

The winner will figure high in any tournament to determine a successor to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay. Clay-Muhammad Ali has been stripped of title recognition by the World Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission.

Frazier, 23, is ranked second by the World Boxing Association and fourth by Ring Magazine. Chuvalo, 29, of Toronto, is ranked 10th by the WBA and fifth by Ring. The WBA said last Saturday it will set up a tournament involving the first eight in its rankings.

The Garden's announcement upset the plans of Mike Malitz and his recently formed Sports Action, Inc., to run an elimination tournament.

A month ago, Malitz announced a tentative four-bout elimination tourney with Chuvalo and Frazier listed for a fight on either Sept. 2 or Sept. 16.

Malitz also had set up a tentative timetable matching Floyd Patterson and Oscar Bonavena of Argentina for Houston, July 15; Ernie Terrell of Chicago and Jimmy Ellis of Louisville for Aug. 4-5, and Germany's Karl Mildenberger vs. Thad Spencer, San Francisco, Sept. 16 or Oct. 7. None of the fights has been made.

It Was A Long Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a long night. As a matter of fact, the longest night in major league history.

"If you don't get ulcers in a game like that, you never will," said Manager Gil Hodges after his last-place Washington Senators defeated the league-leading Chicago White Sox 6-5 in a 6-hour, 38-minute marathon early this morning.

Despite the endurance test, some 2,000 tireless fans still were on hand at 2:43 a.m. when catcher Paul Casanova singled with the bases loaded in the 22nd inning to end the longest night game in baseball history.

"I was just trying to meet the ball," said Casanova, who caught all 22 innings after being behind the plate for 19 innings eight days ago. "I wasn't getting much to look at, so I decided to try to meet the ball. I guess I got lucky."

Casanova said the game-longest under the lights in both innings played and time consumed—didn't affect him very much even though many of his teammates apparently were ready to go to bed.

"I could have played 30 innings," he said. "I wasn't tired. I could have gone all night."

Eddie Stanky, manager of the White Sox, asked newsmen to leave the Chicago dressing room after the game because he wanted to hold a meeting with his team at 3 a.m.

Five previous night games had gone 19 innings while the old mark for elapsed time was 5:13, set by St. Louis and Houston in 1962 and matched by Los Angeles and Philadelphia two years later.

The longest game on record is the 26-inning struggle between the Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Braves in 1920, which ended in a 1-1 standoff. San Francisco edged the New York Mets 8-6 in a 23-inning test three years ago that went 7 hours, 23 minutes, the longest ever in time.

In all, 39 players got into the game with each team employing six pitchers. Each team had a catcher and four pitchers as the only nonparticipants.

The White Sox snapped a 4-4 tie in the 10th when Walt Williams doubled and scored on Don Buford's single. But Washington retied it in the bottom of the inning on Ken McMullen's single, two wild pitches by Bob Locker and Jim King's sacrifice fly.

The Senators built up an early lead on two homers by Cap Peterson and another by Frank Howard—his fifth in five days.

Chicago pulled even on Ron Hansen's two-run single and a run-scoring pinch single by Gerry McNertney.

"The ball game didn't begin until the 11th," said Hodges, "and we were playing long ball. Then we got worn out and couldn't play long ball. The players tried to end it with one swing instead of trying to put a couple of hits together for one run."

Mets Get Bob Hendley From Cubs

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets, still looking for left-handed pitching help, acquired their second southpaw in less than a week yesterday and then sent two other players off to the minor leagues.

The Mets got Bob Hendley from the Chicago Cubs for Rob Gardner, 22, who was 4-1 for Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League.

Hendley, 28, an ex-San Francisco Giant, was 2-0 with the Cubs in seven relief appearances.

With Don Shaw, the only left-hander on the pitching staff, a possibility to be called to Army duty, the Mets traded Jack Hamilton to California for southpaw Nick Willhite last week.

In other moves yesterday, the Mets sent pitcher Chuck Estrada and outfielder Johnny Lewis to Jacksonville of the International League and re-instated infielder Chuck Hiller from the disabled list. Hiller, an ex-Giant, has been out of action with a broken bone in the right hand.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley won one and lost one last week hurling in the Carolina A League for the Asheville, N.C. Astros

Cole who has struck out 28 batters on the season, now has a 2-2 won-lost record and a 3.00 earned run average.

Steve Miller of San Anselmo appeared in one game for the Lexington, N.C., Braves in the West Carolina A League, losing it in a five-inning stint. He's 2-5 on the season with a 5.47 ERA.

Surprise: Wills Hits Home Run

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maury Wills, who could author a book on the extra effort it takes to steal bases, has surprised everyone with a chapter on how to succeed in home run hitting without even trying.

He wrote it last night as he tried to punch a run-scoring single and wound up hitting a three-run homer, capping a five run sixth inning that carried Pittsburgh to a 7-5 victory over St. Louis.

The homer was only his second of the season, giving him two more than the Pirates probably expected him to hit when they acquired him from Los Angeles last winter.

The shock was not as great as Houston where Jim Wynn, a home run regular, slammed his 11th with two on to climax a four-run eighth inning that gave the Astros a 5-2 victory over San Francisco.

FARRELL WINS

Dick Farrell, a pleasant surprise for Philadelphia, hurled 7 1-3 inning of scoreless relief, protecting the Phillies' 7-4 decision over Atlanta.

Of the 50 voting members of the nation-wide committee of turf writers, 45 named Kelso with the other five votes going to Whisk Broom II and Bold Ruler.

'I'll Win Open,' Declares Palmer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — The weather was hot and muggy and a blazing sun beat down on the thousands who gathered to watch the practice rounds for the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The sun was shining for Arnold Palmer, too.

"I'm going to win it," Palmer said on the way from the airport to the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday.

"I'm coming into it with a positive attitude," he said, and indicated that the cloud that hung over him after last year's fantastic collapse has long since dispersed.

"I don't think about it much," the muscular millionaire said. "About the only time I think about it is when someone mentions it.

"I guess there'll be a lot of that this week, but it doesn't bother me."

The reference, of course, was to the 1966 Open at San Francisco when Arnold blew a seven stroke lead with nine holes to play, fell into a tie and eventually lost a playoff to Billy Casper.

In fact, four of the last five National Opens have finished in playoffs—and Palmer has been beaten in three of them. He lost to Jack Nicklaus in 1962 and to Julius Boros in a three-way struggle that included Jacky Cupit in 1963.

But he appeared relaxed and confident after a practice round yesterday over the 7,022-yard par 70 layout where the open will be played Thursday through Sunday.

Palmer shot a 71.

"I've been off for three weeks," said golf's all-time leading money winner. "I think the rest will be good for me. I hope so.

"It may take a little work to get back the edge, going that long without any competitive golf. But I should have it by Thursday.

Palmer, 37, is playing in his 15th consecutive Open. He won once, in 1960 in Denver, Colo.

He comes into this one off a very good year. He has won two tournaments, finished second in three others and fourth in the Masters and leads the money winners with $91,213.21.

"I'm playing pretty well," Palmer said. "I'm driving real well. About the only trouble I have is in my short game, chipping and putting.

"But that should come around.

"This course demands good putting. It will be one of the fairest, best Open courses I have played. The greens are big, hard and fast. There will be a lot of three putting.

"I just hope I'm not among those who are going to do it."

Palmer said the field of 150 "is very tough. But you always have some you have to look at—Nicklaus, Gary Player, Casper, (Masters champion) Gay Brewer.

"And Boros has been playing very well.

"Frank Beard has been playing exceptionally well. He may have come into his own."

Beard, the dark-haired young pro from Louisville, Ky., beat Palmer twice this year in showdowns on the 72nd hole. Does the thought of another head-to-head confrontation, possibly a playoff, bother him?

"It doesn't bug me," Palmer said.

SMILE FOR A RECORD

Mickey Mantle sports a big smile and a bat numbered 2,165 in Boston for the Red Sox-Yankee series. Mantle, injuries and all, will break the New York Yankee record of most games played (2164) set by Lou Gehrig if he plays today.

LESLIE BRYANS
Big winner

Marin Gal Wins Four Medals

Leslie Bryan of the San Rafael Swim Club won four gold medals at the Northern California Junior Olympic age group swim meet in Sacramento last week.

Leslie won the girls 11-12 50 and 100 breaststrokes, swam on two national record-breaking relay teams and finished third in the backstroke for a busy day.

The San Rafael Swim Club's girls' 11-12 200 medley and freestyle relay teams cracked records with times of 2:04.6 and 1:50.8, respectively.

The girl who could have been a sure winner was sidelined before the meet ever started.

Robin Bachrach of the Marin Swim Club, a first-place qualifier in three events in girls 11-12, showed up in Sacramento and came down with a case of mumps.

For San Rafael, Tami McDuffie, took the 10-under 200 I.M., was second in the 100 I.M. and third in the 50 breast.

Cookie Arrighi won the 200 I.M., finished second in the 100 back and third in the 200 free for girls 11-12.

For the Marin Swim Club, Spencer Eldred took the 50 breast, was second in the 100 I.M. and third in the 200 I.M. in the boys 10-under division.

Denise Ham took first in the 50 free and second in the 100 free in the girls 11-12. Cory Vidak was third in the 100 breast and Sue Secondo second in the 100.

Rick DeMont took third in the boys 11-12 200 free and Roberta Shistar was third in the girls 15-17 200 fly.

Swim Award Winners Were Switched Around

Roger Backsted was the Novato High Varsity Swimming team's most improved swimmer and Bill Kuhn was the most valuable swimmer.

The Independent-Journal had the honors received at a spring sports athletic banquet reversed in a story last Saturday.

San Rafael Braves Win Fourth Straight

In a photo-finish at the plate, Bosch was called safe on a belly slide and the dust flew.

HOT BEEF

The call struck a wrong note with Bellingham catcher Frank King, who jumped up, jostled the plate umpire with his belly a la Herman Franks and generally had a hopping-mad fit. The first-base coach joined the discussion, loudly, and promptly was told to take a shower by the base umpire.

Anyway, it was a six-run inning and a 9-1 San Rafael lead that stood up the rest of the way.

Bill Clark took over in the third for the Braves, held the Bells in chceck almost all the wal until the final two innings when Bellingham got away for four runs. Two of them came in the eighth on a homer over the centerfield fence by hulking first baseman Charles "Monty" Coil, a San Francisco Giant draftee. Dennis Nesfor had homered in the sixth for the Bells.

Reliever Slone Nielsen muffled the Braves the rest of the way, giving up just three hits and an unearned run after coming into the game during the chaotic third.

It was Bonanza night at Albert Field, with hordes of Little Leaguers and Pony Leaguers lining up for free prizes of baseball bats, gloves, shirts, balls, hats and gloves, in between innings.

Soccermen Go Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Both of the San Francisco Bay Area's pro soccer teams are in action tonight.

The injury-plagued Golden Gate Gales of the United Soccer Association meet the New York Skyliners. The cool night should be a welcome relief for the Gales, who lost a 4-1 contest at Cleveland in 91-degree heat Sunday with one man on their bench. The one sub was goalie Henry Ardesch, who had been ill the day before. New York is also not as tough a team as Cleveland.

The Oakland Clippers of the rival National Pro Soccer League are at Toronto. Oakland leads the Western Division of the NPSL by 10 points under the complex scoring system that includes goals scored. Toronto is in last place.

Oakland Quint Signs Two More

Two more husky, 6-7 players with professional experience have returned signed contracts to the brand new Oakland club of the American Basketball Association.

The team, in process of organizing for the season starting next fall, now have five players signed with yesterday's addition of Dave Lee, former University of San Francisco star, and Willie Porter, from Tennessee State.

Wills Surprises With Home Run

Washington beat Chicago 6-5 in 22 innings, Baltimore swamped Kansas City 10-2, Boston beat the New York Yankees, 3-1, Minnesota crushed Detroit 11-5, and Cleveland stopped California 7-5 in 11 innings.

Wills, whose hard work to turn himself into a base stealer paid off in 104 thefts in 1962, breaking Ty Cobb's record, has never been known for his slugging. In eight previous major league seasons, he has hit 10, including a whopping six in 1962. His homer last night put the Pirates and winner Dennis Ribant ahead 7-1 and offset later homers by Tim McCarver, Julian Javier and Bob Tolan for the Cardinals.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Fishermen Braving Elements, Coming Back With Salmon

STEVENS

In spite of a choppy sea and cool winds, salmon hungry humans are braving and besting the elements in their quest for silver and chinook salmon outside the Golden Gate.

On Saturday Dame Nature did her best to discourage salmon trolling, but she wasn't very successful. Quite a few boats did get out and did do very well considering everything. For example: Minnie Caruso of Caruso's Place at Sausalito reports most of the boats working from there made the grade with salmon to 20 pounds.

THE "SUNRISE" WAS high boat, with 24 salmon, mostly silvers but some chinooks as well; the "Sea Wolf" had 20 and the "Salmon Queen" boated 22 to 20 pounds.

From the Lee Anderson Bait and Tackle in Oakland, Hal Baenner reported the "Yvette" with 26 salmon to 26 pounds, the "Sea Horse" with 14 to 12 pounds, the "Chinook" with 20 to 12 pounds, while the "Wilma H" netted 21 to 25 pounds. The "Miss Dragnet" had 13 to 18 pounds and the "Sea Wolf" unloaded 20 to 12 pounds.

ON SUNDAY THE chop was still greater than on Saturday, but the boats made it to the area — shoreward from the Farallons, and several boats were starting in at 12:30 p.m. So it would seem that there are still plenty of salmon just waiting for your offering. Better get 'em while the getting is good.

Reports indicate an upswing in the striper striving. Hal Boenner reported James Wilson taking a 20-pound bass from the Berkeley Pier on a live shiner; the "Duke No. 2" landed two sturgeon, one of 41 inches and one measuring 49 inches from the Pump House area near China Camp. The boat, "R.S.P." took 13 stripers to 6 pounds, trolling hardware off the Race Track. The Quans of China Camp reported four sturgeon caught on Saturday. Alice Quan suggested striper strivers to come in early morning to get the best action.

FROM DON'S BAIT House in Clear Lake Highlands comes word of good to excellent crappie and bluegill fishing and fair to good black bass fishing. Black eel lures did the trick.

Harold Wildes of the McAvoy Harbor reported Sam Russo witha limit of bass, John Bannano landed two sturgeon, Saturday, to 45 pounds, and Francis Braze and Jim Espinole took limits of stripers on Saturday while using anchovies for bait. Braze and Expinole worked the Middle Grounds.

JIM PURCELL OF Sports Center in Castro Valley reported fly fishing from banks of the Yuba River out of Marysville to the dam was better than expected. Some really good strings of Shad have been landed. Water too high to wade at present. "Cat fishing slackened off in the Delta," said Jim.

Sam Mele Expects To Return

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Sam Mele, the 1965 major league manager of the year fired last week as field boss of the Minnesota Twins, is looking forward to the first summer vacation with his family in 18 years.

"It will seem strange, but it is only a vacation," Mele said after returning yesterday to his Quincy home. "I expect to be back in baseball next year."

Mele, a former player and coach before he was named manager of the Twins in 1961, admitted he was stunned by his dismissal last Friday.

"It came as a shock and it was disappointing, but managers are hired to be fired, I guess," he said.

"Owner Calvin Griffith and I just didn't see eye to eye on a lot of matters and he decided to make a change," Mele added. "That is his right, but I would like to have finished this season since I think we could have had a good year."

"I felt our team was just starting to jell," he said. "In the past three weeks, we had picked up considerably. After all, Tony Oliva was out and you can't lose a ballplayer like him and not feel it.

"Then, who would have thought Jim Kaat would be 1-7. If he had been .500, we would have been right up there. And the loss of Battey and these factors cost us games.

"But the owner wanted a change and that was that. I enjoyed working with him and he did give me my chance to manage. It's now a past incident."

Hamilton Stars In Track Finals

Two Hamilton Air Force Base thinclads will appear with the All-Air Force team at the Interservice Track and Field Meet at Quantico, Va., tomorrow and Thursday.

Airman 3/c Al Rockwell and Airman 3/c Garold Hines made it by virtue of record-breaking performances at the Air Force World Wide Track and Field Championships at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., last month.

Rockwell clocked 14.2 seconds in a winning 120-yard high hurdles effort, to break the old meet record of 14.3, and Hines leaped 6 feet 8 inches in the high jump to finish second. The old record was 6-7¼.

Harrah's Golf Tourney Begins

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI)—A galaxy of sports stars—including such names as Joe DiMaggio, Dizzy Dean, Rick Barry and Jackie Jensen—tees off today in Harrah's Invitational Golf Tournament.

The three day tourney will be played on three separate courses. Any golfer who makes a hole in one will receive a 1967 Rolls Royce, tournament sponsors said.

Jim Hart's Shoulder Tightens In Astrodome

HOUSTON — When Jim Ray Hart moved Jim Davenport off third base four seasons ago, Davenport's legion of admirers among Giant baseball fans let the front office at Candlestick Park know they weren't happy about the move.

Why not get Hart's big bat in the lineup by putting him in the outfield? Why bench a golden glove like Davenport's? The front office was bombarded with such queries and indignant protests whenever Hart made an error as he often did.

IT WAS INEVITABLE that Hart's glove would be under constant observation by Davenport's supporters. After all, Davenport was and still is a warm favorite of Candlestick fans. His popularity on the peninsula, where he has resided ever since becoming one of the original 1958 San Francisco Giants, is indeed great.

Davenport personally wasn't pleased about losing his third base job but he was enough of a realist to make the most of an all-around infield utility role to which he was assigned. Davenport knows that the experience he picked up at second base and shortstop added years to his major league career.

IT WAS ONLY the contrast between Davenport's stylish glove and Hart's occasionally erratic one that saddled Hart with a reputation of being a poor third baseman.

"Let me tell you something," said Davenport. "Jimmy Ray is a good third baseman. He makes the tough plays. Most of his errors have come on throws. There are plenty of third basemen in the league not as good as Jimmy Ray."

MOST OF HART'S errors do come on off-target throws to first base. His right shoulder has a tendency to tighten on him, especially during an Astrodome series. Last time the Giants visited the Dome, Hart's shoulder tightened up due to a combination of sweating and the air conditioning. That was three weeks ago.

The shoulder finally loosened up again last week in Atlanta and Hart, whose swing also had been hampered, finally broke out of an 0-14 and 1-24 batting slump with a single and a homer.

"I HOPE IT DOESN'T tighten up on me again on this visit to the Astrodome," said Hart.

Hart's teammates entertain a similar hope because they need his bat which thus far this season hasn't once been over the .250 mark although it has boomed sporadically, knocking in the winning run in four games.

Stanford Nine Wins College Series Opener

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — It's no surprise No. 1 ranked Stanford and No. 2 ranked Auburn will collide tonight in the College World Series second round, but Boston College in the winner's bracket—that raises eyebrows.

Boston College upset Rider's 30-game winners 3-1 with a three-run ninth after the New Jersey club threw away a potential game-ending double play. That moved the lightly-regarded Eagles opposite potent Arizona State tonight in the 21st NCAA baseball championships.

Arizona State, 49-11, got two home runs from Scott Reid and 16 strikeouts from Gary Gentry, equalling the Series record for a nine-inning game, and belted Oklahoma State 7-2. Reid's three-run shot in the seventh came after Fred Nelson broke a 2-2 tie with a single.

Stanford made its record 34-4 by bombing Houston 12-1 behind 6-foot-7 Rod Poteete. The Pacific champs will send Sandy Vance, 10-0, troubled for six weeks by a bad shoulder, against Auburn's Jim Blauser. Blauser is 5-4 but has a 1.53 earned run average.

Auburn, now 31-8, beat Ohio State's defending champs 1-0 as Q. V. Lowe gave only five singles and made his record 14-1. But Auburn Coach Paul Nix was displeased with his club's hitting and worried over a knee injury to .346-hitting Greg Golden, who hurt it stepping into an elevator. Golden's replacement at third made three throwing errors.

Letting Opponent Have His Trick Sometimes Really Best

WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

All bridge players study the finesse, an attempt to prevent an opponent from winning a trick with a high card.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

Declarer took the ace of clubs, ruffed a club in dummy and cashed the ace and king of diamonds.

CAN AFFORD ONE

South could afford to lose a trick to the queen of hearts, but he could not afford to lose a club trick.

If he ruffed low he would be overruffed if West had the queen of hearts.

Now he could ruff the jack of clubs with dummy's eight of hearts, and the defenders could get only the queen of trumps.

Only The Lions Call The Faithful

CAIRO (AP) — The Cairo's Zoo lion called "Antar" is in charge of the Mosque's amplifier used for the Muezzin prayers.

Market Registering Another Good Day

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed for its straight daily gain late this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Sperry Rand was active and up more than a point as it paced the list in activity.

Speculative favor was drawn to Standard Kollsman, Ampex, High Voltage Engineering and Avco, all up a point or more and all active.

Bolstering the list, General Motors, Jones & Laughlin, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont and Eastman Kodak all gained a point or so, showing blue chip support for the rise.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Space-Age Stock And Uncertainties

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "What are your feelings about North American Aviation, which an elderly friend of mine has inherited? It now sells down in price and this stockholder in concerned. She cannot afford to take risk, because of her age." C. S.

A. You are a thoughtful man to be concerned about the affairs of your friend. North American Aviation's business is largely in space and electronics work for the U.S. Government. It is the prime contractor for the Apollo program, which has now passed its peak and is expected to provide lower earnings in the future. The recent investigation of the safety features of the Apollo spacecraft rather impaired the company's image and the stock has been turning in a lackluster performance. A proposed merger with Rockwell-Standard might strengthen management, but the effect on earnings cannot be evaluated at this time.

I believe the price of the shares is supported by the six per cent yield, but I feel there are too many uncertainties in this situation for your elderly friend. I advise her to transfer her capital to a savings account where it will be secure from market risk.

Q. "My wife and I are 64 and 65 respectively. We are retired on Social Security and have $30,000 cash assets. My health is not good. Would you advise $20,000 in an annuity to protect her after I'm gone?" T. C.

A. I am sincerely sorry to hear of your poor health. A joint and survivor annuity would guarantee you both a monthly income of over $100, and would be continued to your wife for her lifetime, if she survives you. This is a better return than can be derived from any other completely safe form of investment, and I do advise it in your circumstances. I would keep $5,000 in savings and put $5,000 into International Harvester, yielding a relatively safe 5.5 per cent and offering some long-term inflation protection.

TWA Reports Miles Are Up

SAN FRANCISCO — Passenger traffic records over last weekend have been reported by Trans World Airlines.

TWA flew 103,188,000 domestic revenue passenger miles in the June 9-11 period. The previous domestic record was 102,358,000 miles set June 17-19, 1966.

The weekend also set a record for TWA's systemwide routes of 144,144,000 passenger miles compared to the previous system record of 141,566,000 last June 17-19.

Life Insurance Increases Noted

SAN FRANCISCO —Life insurance in force at May 31 at San Francisco Life was $192,102,691, an increase of 26.2 per cent over May 31, 1966. New insurance in force of $39,875,828 during this period was nearly double the increase recorded for the first five months of both 1964 and 1965 according to George Edelstein, president.

Am I Appealing?

Houses, like women, are appealing to different people. Some like them large; others like them brightly painted; others like them more subdued. Some like a large front yard; others a large back yard. Everyone looks for an attractive one. My statistics are:

★ Carpets
★ Drapes
★ Patio
★ Double garage
★ Large fen. back yard

Do I appeal to you? You won't be sure until you look at me. Call 892-3215 or come by 28 PLAZA DEMIRA. You'll be glad you did. I'm a friendly one!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Optimism Most Important In Treatment Of Emphysema

VAN DELLEN

Certain respiratory tests are invaluable in diagnosing emphysema even though we can bet that a chain smoker wtih severe bronchitis and shortness of breath has the disease. The tests indicate the extent of bronchial damage and what should be done to improve the condition. The procedures also determine the effectiveness of therapy.

Optimism is important in emphysema because the disease is not always progressive and ultimately fatal. The walls of the bronchi are thickened and narrowed as a result of chronic irritation leading to excessive coughing and impaired breathing.

DR. LAWRENCE C. McHenry Jr. of Philadelphia gave a vivid description of Dr. Samuel Johnson's emphysema. Johnson escaped respiratory infection during his first fifty years despite the damp, moist climate of the English Midlands and fog of London. Severe bronchitis plagued him for the next 25 years. His physicians bled him repeatedly and he gained relief with "abstinence, opium, mercury, and purgatives."

Despite his obesity, relative physical inactivity, and loss of blood, Johnson lived to the age of 75. Modern physicians may not have added to his longevity but they could have made him more comfortable. Penicillin or erythromycin would have lessened the damage to his lungs and shortened the periods of disability. Bronchodilators (epinephrine and Isuprel), unknown in his day, would have relaxed the bronchial muscles. These are administered via hand bulb nebulizers and compressed air pumps.

The present-day sufferer relies upon these and other products for relief. Expectorants, such as the iodides, facilitate the removal of tenacious sputum and improve the flow of air in and out of the lungs. Oxygen and exercise also help. Air pollution and smoking must be avoided.

FUNCTIONS OF ADRENALS

P. P. S. writes: What duties are performed by the adrenal glands?

REPLY

The secretions from the central part of the gland (medulla) increase blood pressure and give us that extra energy when an emergency arises. The secretions from the outside part (cortex) combat the stress of disease and are concerned with tissue fluids as well as salt. The adrenals also function in harmony with other glands such as the gonads and the pancreas.

ALLERGY AND DISPOSITION

Mrs. A.A. writes: Does allergy in a child cause his disposition to change? My 3-year-old usually is a happy boy but when his eczema breaks out he is sulky and pouty until the outbreak is cleared up by diet.

REPLY

Yes, in that eczema itches and interferes with sleep and appetite. Many allergists have noted that allergic children sleep better and cry less when the offending food is eliminated from the diet.

HAY FEVER

REPLY

Most sufferers prefer flight but if a vacation in a low pollen area is not feasible help is possible through various measures. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hay fever and low pollen vacation regions.

SCARLET FEVER

P. M. writes: Can scarlet fever damage the heart?

RELY

Yes. Scarlet fever is caused by streptococci, the germs that also cause rheumatic fever. It is the latter complication that damages the heart.

NEEDLESS INVALIDISM

N. O. S. writes: Does a diabetic have to give up all exercises and spend most of his time resting?

REPLY

No. Exercise is beneficial because it helps burn up the unused sugar. Diabetes is no alibi for laziness.

FLUID IN LUNG

E. B. writes: What would cause fluid to accumulate in an otherwise healthy lung?

REPLY

Congestion in the lungs may stem from heart trouble, kidney disorders, or from pleurisy.

LINGUAL TISSUE

M. P. G. writes: What are the ligual tonsils?

REPLY

BLOOD DISEASES

B. H. B. writes: I aplastic anemia similar to leukemia?

REPLY

No. In leukemia there are too many white blood cells whereas in aplastic anemia, the bone marrow fails to manufacture red blood corpuscles and other blood elements.

Spectacular Rodeo To Open Western Weekend For '67

Bucking horses, calf roping, bull riding and a girls' barrel race, all the thrills of a rodeo, will be in store for those attending the Novato Horsemen's rodeo at 1 p.m. Sunday at the arena on Bugeia Lane.

The crowd-pleasing event will open this year's Western Weekend Celebration. It is the ninth year which this rodeo has been an officially approved Rodeo Cowboys Association rodeo.

Cotton Rosser of Marysville, who has furnished the stock for previous rodeos, will again furnish the bucking stock for this rodeo. He has the reputation of having the best stock in California, and furnishes the stock for the National Rodeo finals each year.

The purse will attract top-ranking cowboys again this year. Jack Roddy of San Jose, who was the world's champion bulldogger in 1966, is expected. Also expected are these famous name cowboys from around the area: Don Flanagan of Danville, John Rose of Sebastopol, Harley May of Oakdale, Bob Ragsdale from Chowchilla, and Lee Farris of Sebastopol.

Local cowboys may enter without a permit from the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

For the first time, this year there will be a girls' barrel race. So far, 10 women have entered the race, including Linda Rosser, wife of the stock owner, Pat Flanagan and Rosina Johnson.

Another special event which was held last year is the businessman's calf roping. This brought many laughs to the crowd.

Major events listed for the rodeo this year are bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, team roping, steer wrestling and bull riding, according to Lloyd Loftus, chairman of the rodeo committee.

Fast-Draw Artists To Show Off Skills

In the Old West, the six-shooter was often the final law of the land. In such a society, there were only two kinds of gun toters, the quick and the dead.

This skill of quick draw and fire is not a lost art. It will be demonstrated for Western Weekend by The Plainsmen, a club of seven members who like the competitive sport. They use an electronic clock to time their shots to one-hundredth of a second.

The Plainsmen use blanks in their guns, which are replicas of frontier guns. They claim to shoot as fast as the gun fighters of the Old West.

PREACH SAFETY

While they are demonstrating fast draw, they also preach respect for guns. They say that the fast draw is one of the safe present-day competitive uses of guns.

"It was on by 16th birthday. After supper, my father brought out a large box and set it on the table of the dining room of our Texas ranch house. In it was a Colt .45 and a Bible," he said.

"My father, putting his hand on the gun, said, 'This is the might,' and then putting his hand on the Bible, added, 'But this is the right'," Goudge said.

TITLE HOLDER

KEN GENTRY

During their fast-draw demonstartions, they will demonstrate fanning, thumbing, spinning, balloon and blindfold tricks. They will invite the children to compete with them with their cap guns.

Melodrama, Beard Event On Tuesday

"The Widow's Plight, or Virtue Victorious," a melodrama, will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Novato Community House by the Novato Community Players as a feature of Western Weekend.

The Beard Contest will also be judged at the same time.

The cast of the play, in order of their appearance, are: Mazda, the baby daughter, Saunde Brown; Mrs. Crockett, a grandmother, Vivienne Terry; Araminta, the heroine, Stacey Brennan; Bludsoe Heartensole, the villian, Vincent McGovern; Tobias Trout, the hero, Scott Wright; Mrs. Sartin and Mrs. Pert, two nosey neighbors, Constance Craig and Elizabeth London; Herodious Blitherington, the hero's father, Paul Terry, and the policeman, Albert Richter.

The Fireladies dance will be performed by Shirley Nilsen, Georgia Beebe, Constance Craig and Elaine Jacob.

Special music by Georgia Beebe, Elaine Jacob, Max Keeler and Dawn Scheiern.

Lighting is by Patricia Conway and Glen Barton; sound by Kenneth Craig; sets by Gay Pittman; choreography by Elaine Jacob. The melodrama is produced and directed by Joseph Jacob. Jackie Proett will be the master of ceremonies.

QUEEN LYNETTE BOBO
To reign over festivities

Lynette Bobo Reigns As Celebration Queen

Black haired, brown eyed Lynette Bobo will reign as queen over Western Weekend festivities.

Patti Villa and Janice Kimbell, first and second runners-up, will be the princesses.

They were chosen from a field of 10 on May 27 at the Novato Community House. This is the first year that choosing the queen was done before the celebration. This year, however, extending the time of the celebration made it conflict with the last week of school activities, so the coronation was moved ahead.

Queen Lynette was crowned by Supervisor William Gnoss. She received a wardrobe as gifts for being chosen. The two princesses received gift certificates.

Other contestants were: Lori Zimmer, Robin Wisgerhof, Corine Braly, Nancie Kimbell, Vivki Miller, Sarah Tandy and Janice Padgett.

12th Or 22nd, Western Weekend Has A Long, Colorful History

Officially this is the 12th Annual Western Weekend celebration in Novato. It is the first edition of the celebration to be put on by Western Weekend Inc., a non-profit corporation.

It is the 12th celebration as a full-fledged celebration. Yet the first parade and horse show were in 1945, so it is the 22nd annual parade and horse show.

Townspeople joined in the procession and the big Western Weekend parade is the outgrowth of that. The rodeo is the outgrowth of the horse show.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce took it over and ran it for 10 years. It was this energetic group of young men who tried different things each year until they hit on the formula which made the celebration a success.

This came several years back when the various civic organizations in the city took over parts of the celebration and made money on them.

Feeling that it was too much for them to continue to shoulder all of the responsibility, the Junior Chamber members spearheaded a movement and incorporated the celebration as a non-profit organization. There were 22 organizations which joined in this corporation.

There is a board of directors elected from representatives of the member groups.

Parade Always Is A Crowd Pleaser

This parade, which usually runs two to three hours long, may attract the largest crowd ever because it will be staged in the cool evening hours. It is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m., Saturday, June 24, climaxing the celebration.

ROUTE OF MARCH

The parade will follow a similar route this year to last year with it beginning at First Street and Grant Avenue. It will proceed west on Grant Avenue, go up Virginia Avenue to Simmons Lane and disburse at the Pioneer Memorial Park on Simmons Lane.

There are nearly $2,000 in cash prizes plus trophies and ribbons to draw the expected 200 entries into the parade. The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce again is in charge of the parade.

It will form on First and Second Streets north of Grant Avenue, Vallejo and Olive Avenues from First Street to Fourth Street.

GIGANTIC HORSE

Sir Duval, reputed to be the largest horse in the world, will lead the parade. His rider will set the pace by beating on two huge kettle drums on the side of the big black horse.

Just before that, the city councilmen and Mayor J. Wayne Womack and Supervisor William Gnoss will traverse the parade route.

Immediately behind the big horse, Col. Charles Praul, commander of Hamilton Air Force Base, will be the Grand Marshal of the parade.

GUESTS OF HONOR

Honored in the parade will be Queen Lynette Bobo and her court, the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Miss winners, and Edward Kraft, winner of the Jaycees' distinguished service award. The winners of the Beard Contest to be held Tuesday will also be spotlighted.

PARADE ENTRIES

Some of the most colorful units to enter the parade will be: the Royal Family drum and drill unit; the Hamilton Air Force Base band and color guard; the Coast Guard color guard, drill team and band, from Alameda; the Naval School command drill team from Mare Island; the Pepperettes, a majorette group; the Antioch Troubadors; the Hayward Chaparells; and the Police Athletic League Kingsmen from Redwood City.

In addition to the big drum horse, the team of large Belgian horses will pull the circus wagon. The Wells Fargo stage coach will also be seen in the parade.

Two of the largest single units this year will be the Boy Scouts which will march as a unit made up of several troops and the Novato Horsemen will ride as a unit.

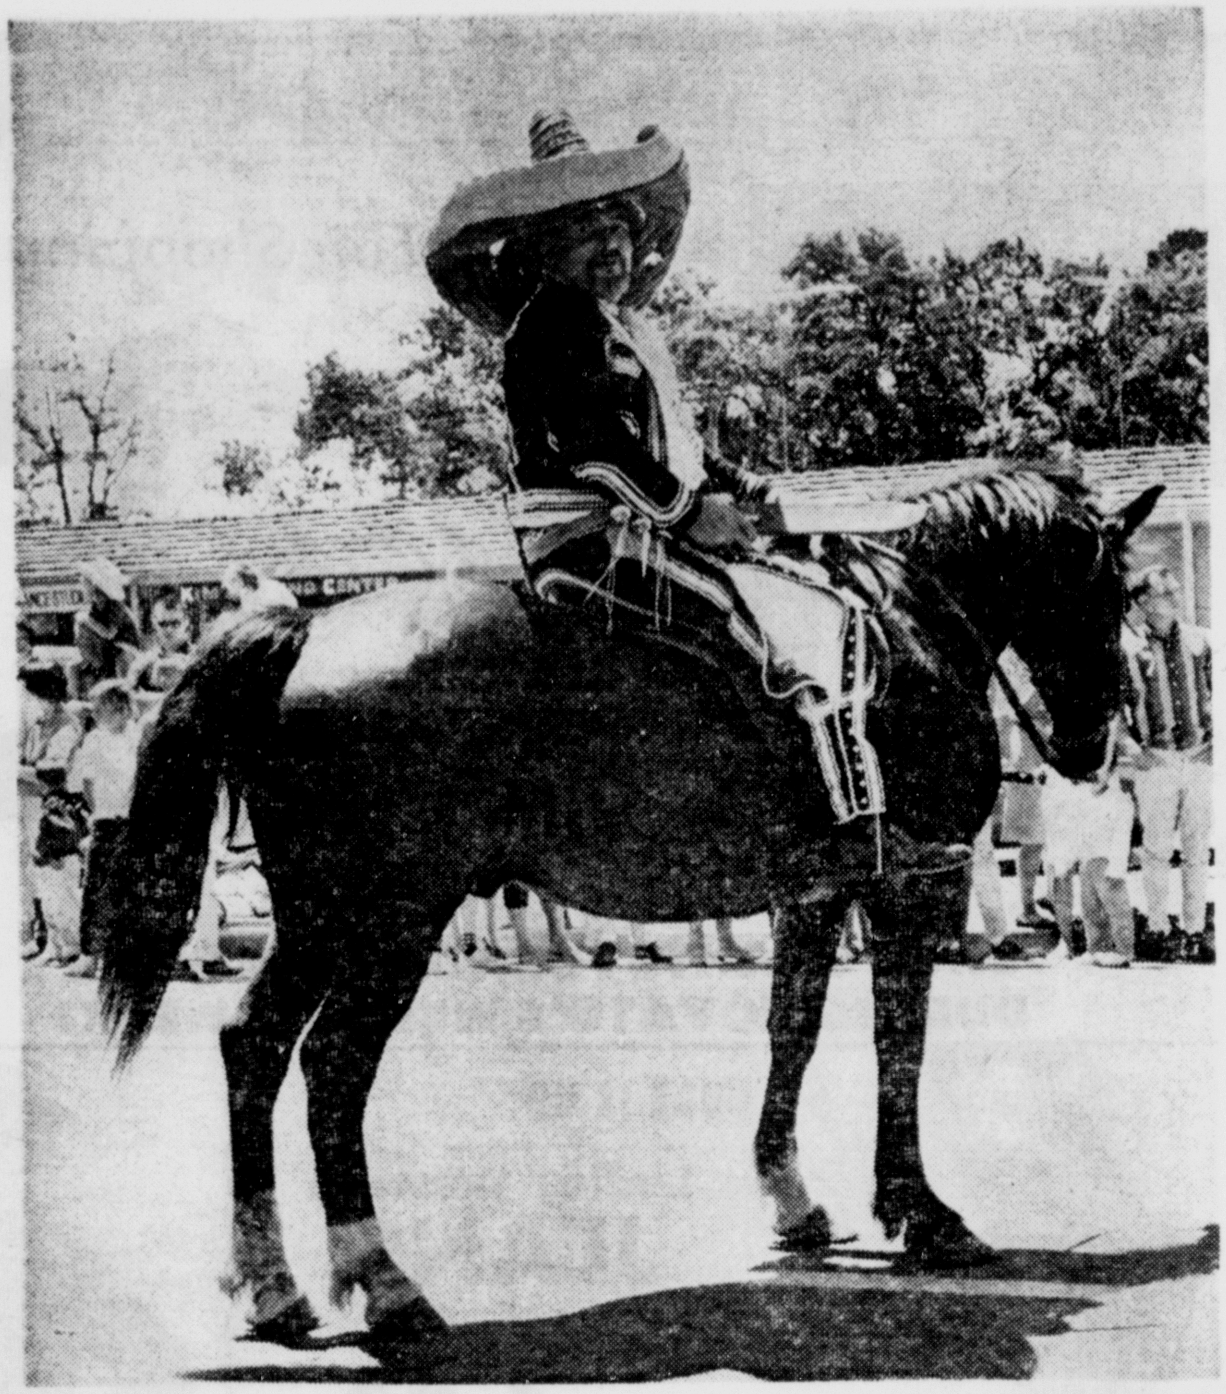
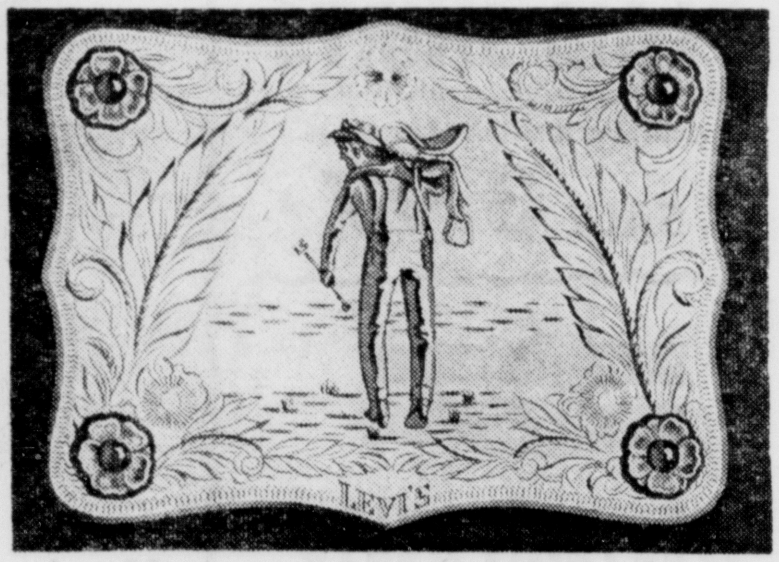
JUDGES' TASK

After the parade disperses and the judges have tallied, the awards will be given at the Western Weekend grounds on San Marin Drive.



MEXICAN DAYS RELIVED—"Si senor, I'm sorry that my hat is all tattered, but I am in the parade too," seems to be what this soulful looking Mexican said as he rode in the Western Weekend parade last year.



FOR BEST WHISKERS

A special grand prize will be given for the first time this year for the "Best of Show" in the beard contest. It is a $50 silver buckle donated by the Levi Strauss and Co. showing their famous saddleman in gold, with hand engraving and four gold rosettes set with rubies. The buckle will be presented along with the other trophies at the Beard Contest judging at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Community House.

Mementos On Display

A collection of Civil War uniforms and old guns will be on display at the Western Weekend headquarters at the Sunset International Sales office on San Marin Drive during the eight days of the Western Weekend celebration.

In the uniform collection is that of a lieutenant colonel which features a nine button frock coat, and cavalry dress helmet with yellow plume. An infantry uniform has a four button blouse and blue pants and all of the accessories which the foot soldier had to carry including the cartridge pouch, cap boy and bayonet for his 1863 Springfield musket.

A cavalry uniform has the short jacket with yellow piping, handee hat, belt and eagle buckle, and other accessories which the cavalry soldier wore.

There is also a sergeant's uniform with the blue shirt and vest, buff hat with cord and crossed sabers, cartridge belt with bullets and a pistol holster.

ANTIQUES TO FLY — Pictured here making a perfect landing is a Krieder Reisner built in 1929. It is one of 15 antique planes which will be on display as well as fly in and out of the grounds for Western Weekend.

Old Circus Blacksmith Wagon Due

It will be an authentic circus blacksmith shop once used by the Ringling Brothers Circus half a century ago.

When a circus train pulled into a city, the blacksmith wagon was taken to the circus grounds. Here it was fired up and the job of keeping the circus horses shod was begun.

This restored wagon is complete with anvil, forge and all the tongs and hammers used by the wagon to shoe the horses. Also on exhibit will be a large collection of horseshoes. This exhibit is sponsored by the Atherton School of Riding on Atherton Avenue at Olive Avenue.

Last Year's Queen

Lee Baldwin was the queen of Western Weekend last year. She was chosen over five other candidates.

Historic Planes Due To Fly In

Some of the early airplanes that helped to make aviation history will be on display and flying in and out of the grounds at Western Weekend at San Marin Drive west of Highway 101.

There will be 15 of these old planes that fly to a runway on the grounds. They may also be inspected by the visitors.

Included among the planes will be a 1929 Fleet, owned by Novato's Will Green; a 1928 Kreider Reisner 21, one of four or five left in the United States; a 1929 KR 34; a 1929 Fleet Model, and a 1930 Stinson Detroiter, a four-place cabin monoplane.

The classic age of the propeller plane will be represented by a 1942 Ryan PT-22 and a 1942 Stearman biplane.

Planes built prior to World War II are considered antiques, but antique or not, the planes are licensed by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Paul Bunyan To Spin Yarns For Youngsters

A modern day Paul Bunyan, Chet Chandell of Mendocino, will portray the mythical Paul for the youngsters attending Western Weekend Celebration this year in Novato. His appearances are scheduled for Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon, June 23, 24 and 25.

He will wear typical lumberjack apparel and carry his seven foot axe. He will tell tall tales of the lumbermen, some of his own stories and some borrowed from the Paul Bunyan legend.

BIG MAN, BIG OX

The original Paul was taller than the trees, having the ability to chop one down with four strokes of his big ax — one on each side oft he tree.

Babe, his gigantic blue ox, was as much a part of the logging picture as Paul was. Babe was so big that every time they shod it, they had to open a new iron mine.

Paul could travel with Babe from the logging camps of Michigan and Minnesota to the West Coast in an afternoon. On one trip, Babe was dragging Paul's peavy behind. (A peavy is a logger's tool with a sharp spike and a hook on it for rolling logs).

Well, a yellowjacket stung Babe and the big ox panicked and stampeded.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE

Before Paul could get him stopped, the peavy had caught in the ground and dug a trench as Babe fled. One can see it today in Northern Arizona, called the Grand Canyon.

Paul needed a log chute to get his logs from the mountains down to the Pacific Ocean, so he dug the Columbia River. After the heavy winter rains had softened the ground in the high Sierra range, Paul strode down the ridge looking over this new domain. His footprints filled with water, and we use them today as the high lakes in the Sierra.

Western Weekend's Paul Bunyan also tells true tales. He tells of the time that the movie "The Russians Are Coming, The Russians Are Coming" was filmed in Mendocino. The director wanted to cast Chet in one of the roles as a Russian sailor.

"The only thing that fit me was the handkerchief," Chet recalled.

So instead of acting in the movie, he entertained the cast during breaks with his stories of his logging days. This is the same charm that will entertain the small fry at Western Weekend.

BUFFALO BILL STAGE COACH ON DISPLAY

Memories of Buffalo Bill Cody will come alive at the Western Weekend celebration this year when the coach that he used in his famous show with Annie Oakley as the star will be on display.

Buffalo Bill, although publicized as a great Indian scout, was much more famous for his Wild West show with which he toured the United States and Europe. This show did bring a taste of the Wild West to the civilized areas of the East and the cities of Europe.

The stage coach which he used in this show was restored to its former glory by Wells Fargo, present owners. It will be on display at the sales office of Sunset / San Marin.

Historic panels from the Wells Fargo collection and other memorabilia will also be on display at the center.

TEMPTING THE BULL

A cowboy clown risks his neck (or another portion of his anatomy) in teasing a bull to draw his attention away from the downed cowboy rider. The clown must have all of the agility and bravo of a toreador to stay in the ring with the angered bull while the thrown cowboy makes his way to safety. Quite often the clown is driven high up on the fence to escape the bull until it can be driven back into its pen.

Rodeo Cowboys Risk Dangers For Slim Cash

The cowboys who ride in the rodeos across the country — including Novato's Western Weekend—are among the hardest working men of their trade.

They do not receive any salary as do the regular cowboys working on ranches. They risk their lives and run the chance of injury every time they enter some of the events.

In spite of all the odds against them, all they get is the prize money they win. They may have to ride in a rodeo in one city one day and the next be many miles away for the next one.

It is a hard life, but full of thrills as they bet their skills against the meanest livestock which can be assembled. They average between $3,000 and $4,000 per year.

License Waived

Local Clubs Help Assure Good Times At Carnival

For the past few years, various organizations in Novato have run the booths in the Western Weekend carnival.

This has not only kept any reputed rough carnival element away from the grounds, but has given these organizations some added money.

The booths and the organizations running them this year are: basketball toss, Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped; hamburger booth, Petaluma Citizens Radio Club; taco booth, Concerned Democrats;

MEMORIES OF THE CIRCUS

Some of the thrills of old-time circuses will be brought to the grounds of Western Weekend at 9 a.m. Saturday (June 24) when a team of eight champion Belgian horses arrives pulling a huge circus wagon. This big wagon was at one time a circus wagon and has been restored. The star of the span of horses is Constrico, who weighs 2,300 pounds and stands 18½ hands high. He is valued at $10,000, one of the most valuable Belgian horses in the world today. The Belgian horse was one of the most popular in the Old West because of their great strength and stamina in pulling heavy loads.

A Ton Of Horse Will Set Pace For Western Weekend Paraders

Sir Deval, as he is known, is the nation's biggest Percheron. He will lead the parade. This big horse stands six feet, two inches tall at the shoulder and weighs 2,585 pounds.

The big horse will wear the trappings of a drum horse of Napoleon's army. His rider, who will be dressed in historic military uniform, will beat the pace for the parade on big kettle drums strapped to the saddle.

Up to World War I, drum horses led the troops into battle, keeping the beat of the pace of march. This was typical of the military formations of the Civil War and campaigns of the West.

Preparing the horse and his rider for the parade takes several hours, according to his trainer and exhibitor, Jerry P. Booker of Concar Ranch in San Mateo. During all of this, the big horse stands patiently waiting while his glossy black coat is groomed and he is outfitted.

The Percheron is the only draft horse to carry a strain of Arabian horse in their ancestry. They were developed as a draft horse to be used by the knights.

The horse had to be large enough to carry his armor and the armor of the knight. He had to have the endurance necessary for long marches. In addition, he needed the agility of the modern quarterhorse to compete in the battles.

So Novato's Western Weekend parade will be led by a big, strong horse of noble ancestry.

Homespun Skills Revived For Western Weekenders

Household crafts of the Old West, which are now lost or nearly lost, will be demonstrated at Western Weekend when spinners, weavers and potters show their ancient skills.

The Gravander Spinners will be on hand at the Royal Crown Cola Pavilion on the Western Weekend grounds, Wednesday through Sunday. These craftsmen will show the use of different types of materials from flax to fur. They will spin yarn from them and then the weavers will turn this yarn into cloth on their looms.

The group was organized in 1956 and named for Mrs. Valborg Gravander of Mill Valley, who came to the United States from Sweden 40 years ago.

Those who will demonstrate at Western Weekend are: Mrs. Gravander, Elaine Brunn and Myrtis Copestick of Mill Valley; Rhea Bowles of San Anselmo; Esther McKinley of San Francisco; Fern Brown of San Leandro; Debbie Zarbough of Livermore, and Erda Kappeler of Ukiah.

Those who will demonstrate the use of the potter's wheel are: Jeanne Glasser and Gwynne Peticolas of Mill Valley; Beverly Prevost of San Rafael, and Mary Garst of Berkeley.

Pony Express Relics Will Be On Display

There will be artifacts and memorabilia from the Pony Express history loaned from the art gallery in San Rafael through the courtesy of Col. Waddell Smith.

Celebration's Roots Trace To Horsemen's Association

The history of the Western Weekend celebration is, in many respects, the history of the Novato Horesmen's Association.

When Novato was a small town, much smaller than the enrollment now at Novato High School, it had a rural atmosphere. It drew people to it who liked horses, and many in the city still do.

CLUB FORMED

These people decided it would be a good idea to organize a club for riding, and that was done under the oak trees on the farm in 1942.

However, it soon became evident that the club could not continue meeting under the trees, especially during the rainy weather of the winters. Among the 16 charter members of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tharp of 775 Atherton Avenue.

The Tharps had a long stable on their 24 acres on Atherton Avenue. It was designed long and narrow so that it could be cleaned from one end to the other with a tractor scoop. They volunteered the use of one end of this stable for a meeting place for the club.

So one stall was removed, and the hay that was stored at the west end of the stable was moved back and the club met there for one year.

It was during this time that the late Sid Lowenthal pushed for financing of a club house and grounds for a permanent home for the organization, officially called Novato Horsemen Inc.

Each of the 16 members of the club donated $100 and that was enough to purchase four acres from John Bugeia on Bugeia Lane for $1,600.

ECONOMY QUARTERS

Contractor Ralph Briggs at the time was tearing down the Forbes Mansion in San Rafael. So he used his carpenters and the used material from the Forbes Mansion to construct the clubhouse at a cost of $750 to the Horsemen.

The clubhouse was opened in April of 1945.

Later, the Tharps sold their big house and moved into a smaller house in back of the long, one-story stable. They soon found that the small house was too small for them, so they remodeled the barn into their present house. The portion of it where the Horsemen's Club first met became their living room.

EARLY ARENA

Joseph C. Wayne of 151 Crest Road headed a committee that constructed the first arena. They cut down the big eucalyptus trees on the edge of the property to construct it.

The first parade and horse show were held on June 3, 1945. The Horsemen met on the west end of Novato and rode their horses to their clubhouse and arena on Bugeia Lane for the WESTERN FIGURES—"Wild Bill Hickok," and "The Frontiersman" are two of the figures which sculptor Michael Garman of Dallas, Tex., creates out of clay. These and other works of the sculptor will be on display in the Pavilion at the Western Weekend grounds.

Western Artists Set To Work At Weekend

A display of Western art creations and demonstrations of how they work will be given by two widely known artists in the Royal Crown Cola Pavilion at the Western Weekend grounds on San Marin Drive at Highway 101.

Swazo is a Tesuque Pueblo Indian from New Mexico. He will explain the Pueblo cultures and how he has used this in his oil paintings. He will be on hand at the pavilion on Saturday and Sunday afternoons (June 24 and 25). A preview of his work is now on exhibit at Edwin Smalle and Associates at 828 Grant Avenue, Novato.

His work has been exhibited throughout the West and has won numerous awards. The theme ranges from prehistorical Indian to modern urban eras. He frequently lectures on the Indian art, both traditional and contemporary.

Garman is a self-taught artist. He creates clay figures about 10 inches tall. These are noted for their realism, especially of Western characters.

INDIAN ART — "Chant to the Eagle Spirit" is one of the paintings of Swazo, a Tesuque Pueblo Indian now living in Berkeley, which will be on display in the Pavilion at the Western Weekend grounds.

Storefront Displays Missing This Year

No organization undertook this contest, so the merchants were not approached to do it. Any decorating will be done on a strictly volunteer basis.

Celebrants Can Sate Hunger Pleasantly

Western-type food will be available to those attending Western Weekend celebration this year, but more so than in the past.

The usual Buck-a-roo breakfast with juice, hot cakes, sausages and eggs will be served from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Saturday, June 24, by the Mariner's Club of the Novato Presbyterian Church.

Those who want a bit of Old San Francisco can eat at the Old Spaghetti Factory Cafe, which will operate starting Wednesday through Saturday at the grounds.

Ice cold steam beer and soft drinks as well as snacks will be available at all times when the grounds are open.

Western Weekend First: Professional Soccer Due

Members of the California Clippers, professional soccer team, will present the game from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 21, at the Novato High School football field.

An explanatory brochure on the game of soccer will be given to the people as they take their seats in the bleachers. Then the first half of the time will be given to a demonstration of the various plays in the game.

There is an admission charge for the benefit of Sunny Hills Guild No. 2, according to Mrs. John Miklos, chairman. Children under 16 (with their parents) will be admitted free.

Posters Plug Annual Events

They were done in old-fashioned type calling attention to the celebration which is aimed at retaining the Old West flavor in the city.

WESTERN WEEKEND GROUNDS

The grounds for Western Weekend where most of the events will be held are on San Marin Drive just west of Highway 101. Sunset/San Marin has loaned Western Weekend Inc. the use of the area just north of the firm's sales office. Some of the historical exhibits will be displayed in the sales office, while most of them will be held in the Navajo Pavilion. They also have a western street, corral for the fast draw artists, camp ground for the Scouts Camporee, runway for the ancient airplanes and ample parking which will be handled by the Novato Kiwanis Club.

Many Talents Combine To Get Grounds Ready For Big Event

The grounds were designed by John Stuber and Tony Furnus, engineers, according to Harry Young, grounds chairman.

The Old West Street was the creation of Joseph Brusati, owner of the Golden Apple in Novato. It was constructed by the Novato Optimist Club under the supervision of Martin White, a member of the board of directors of Western Weekend Inc.

SQUARE DANCERS SET FOR REAL HOEDOWNS

As the wagon trains moved westward to the gold fields of California, the hearty pioneers square danced around the campfires in the evenings.

This pioneer form of entertainment will be exhibited at Western Weekend by the Stump Jumpers and Novato Squares, square dance clubs, at 8 p.m., Thursday, June 22, at the grounds on San Marin Drive.

In addition to the exhibition of square dancing the clubs will hold parties for Western Weekend. The Novato Squares will hold a dance at 8:30 p.m. Friday night at the Novato High School with Lee Helsel of Sacramento as caller. On Saturday at the Novato Community House, the Stump Jumpers will hold its party with Don Shotwell as the caller. These are open to all square dancers.

Scouts Will Show Skills

Horsemen, Weekend Long Tied

This horse show grew quite rapidly. A program for the fourth annual horse show on June 20, 1948, shows that there were 236 entries in 10 events that drew a crowd of 1,000.

RODEO GREW

As the club grew, one element wanted a rodeo instead of a horse show. So the rodeo replaced the horse show. It also grew. At first, it was put on by the local riders. As the show grew, professional cowboys were enticed into coming to the rodeo and professional stock was hired to put on the show.

The Novato event gained recognition as a National Cowboys Association rodeo. Cowboys competing in it get points in their national rating and the purses grew larger so that the better names in cowboy competition came to the show.

Two years ago, 4,000 people saw the two-day rodeo. Last year, with the show running only one day, it attracted 3,000 people. The same number of people are expected for the rodeo this year.

So the two biggest elements of the Western Weekend celebration, the parade and the rodeo, started with the Novato Horsemen.

Police Chief Gives Warning On Pranks

Colorful History Prepared

The Novato Territorial Times, a publication issued as part of the 1967 Western Weekend, was published by Western Weekend Inc.

Using an old-fashioned format and type, the 16-page tabloid paper aims at giving the history of North Marin, including Novato, Ignacio and Hamilton Air Force Base. One story, entitled "Horse and Buggy to Flying Machine," is a history of transportation.

The publication also has early San Francisco and Wells Fargo history. It carries pictures and sketches of the old fashions.

Ann Trumbull, executive director of Western Weekend, was the supervisor of the publication. Alice Yarish and Elsie Milne edited it. Alton Lerch and Edwin S. Long furnished the pictures.

Beard Wins Twice

Frank Antonio, who won for having the best Abe Lincoln beard last year, was a double winner, because he also won the Best of Show.

CONTESTANTS FOR QUEEN

Stagecoach To Run

A Concord Stage, constructed to three-quarters scale of actual size, will be on the grounds on San Marin Drive just west of Highway 101.

This almost life-size replica of the famous old Concord stages, which were used in the gold fields, will be pulled by ponies. Its driver will wear a costume reminiscent of the old stage coach drivers.

Another unusual mode of transportation will be the hayride taxi for children. It will take them from Grant Avenue in downtown Novato out to the Western Weekend grounds. Fred Miller of the C Bar N Ranch is in charge of the hayride taxi.

ANCIENT CRAFTS TO BE DEMONSTRATED

CEILING UNLIMITED

Rider and horse seem headed for the sky in this bareback bronc riding event, one of the competitions which are scheduled for the Rodeo at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Novato Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane.

FINAL SUNDAY OLD FASHIONED DAY AT PARK

"Sunday Afternoon at the Park" is the theme of the final Sunday of Western Weekend this year.

Starting at noon, the program at the grounds includes an old-fashioned chuck wagon round-up dinner. There will also be games for the children and adults.

Entertainment will include showing of the big horses; appearance by the Indian Artist, Swazo; demonstrations by the fast draw artists, the Plainsmen, and the special Indian ceremonial dance.

Western Thirsts To Be Recalled

People who are more than 21 years of age, and still not old enough to remember the Gold Rush days in California, will have a chance to sample one of the famous products of that age—Steam Beer.

It will be served ice cold on the grounds at Novato's Western Weekend celebration.

This famous beer of the Old West, said to have been invented by Pete Steam, was originated because it could be made without refrigeration in the Gold Rush camps. It moved to San Francisco and by 1851, there were 27 breweries making it there.
